BATES CARRIES CITY BY 553.

Gaston Receives a Flattering Vote and Leads in Two Wards.

USUAL REPUBLICAN MAJORITY GREATLY REDUCED BUT ENTIRE TICKET IS SUCCESSFUL.

The state election on Tuesday was without noteworthy features, except the reduced republican plurality for governor, Mr. Bates receiving but 553 plurality as against 1593 given Governor Crane in 1901. Bates carried every ward in the city save 1 and 3, although Gaston was ahead in precinct 1 of Ward 2, precinct 2 of Ward 4, and precinct 1 of Ward 5.

The socialist vote for governor was a surprise, Mr. Chase receiving 227 votes as against a vote of 34 in 1901. The bulk of this vote came from the Upper Falls precinct. For lieutenant governor General Guild carried every ward in the city, losing but four precincts, which are strongly democratic. His vote exceeds Bates by 258, and he has a plurality of 1269.

For Congress, Mr. Powers carries every precinct but three and has a plurality of 1509. In 1900, Mr. Powers had a plurality over Baker and Story of 1545.

In the district Mr. Powers receives a vote of 14,811, and a plurality of 4538.

The bulk of the vote was cast in the morning hours as usual, and a total of 4826 ballots were registered. This is 79 per cent. of the registration and is a fairly good vote.

The returns came into City Hall in a comparatively short time, precinct 2 of Ward 3, leading the van at 5.06 p. m. and precinct 1 of Ward 2 being the last at 7.45 o'clock.

A tabulation of the vote is as follows:

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The Mayor Estimates City Expenses for 1903 at $1,146,842.17.

Important Report Received From the Street Light Commission.
Changes in Ordinances.

At the regular meeting of the board of aldermen last Monday night, President Weed was in the chair, and Aldermen Baker, Barber, Bowen, Brown, Chesley, Day, Ensign, Hubbard, Hutchinson, Lothrop, Lowe, Mellen, Norris, Pulsifer, Saltonstall, Trowbridge, Webster, Pond and Carter were also present.

A hearing was announced upon the laying out of Northgate Park and Capt. S. E. Howard spoke in favor.

At the hearing upon the petition of B. S. Hatch to locate a six horse power gas engine on Webster street no one appeared and the petition was granted.

The communication from the Mayor submitting estimates of receipts and expenses for 1903 was referred to the Finance Committee.

Similar action was taken on the request of the School Committee for transfer of $500 from the General appropriation to that for School Incidentals. The application of Mary J. Rice for Soldiers' Relief, of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs that salary of police matron be fixed at $365, and an order establishing pay of election officers were also referred to the Finance Committee.

A proclamation from Gov. Crane relative to opening of the State Colony for the Insane was read and filed.

The invitation from Chas. Ward Post G. A. R., to a Camp Fire on Nov. 17 was accepted.

Upon the notice from the Republican City Committee relative to municipal caucuses on Nov. 20, the City Clerk was authorized to provide polling places.

A petition from Eliza Philbrick for private telephone wire across Boylston street was referred to the Committee on Public Works.

Petitions from W. F. Woodman and several other residents of Newton Centre for an illuminated clock on the Mason school house, and from the Boston & Worcester Street Railway Co. for permission to erect a waiting room at corner of Elliot and Boylston streets were referred to the Committee on Public Works.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The following reports were received: PUBLIC FRANCHISES: Recommending that N. & W. Gas Light Co. be granted pole locations on Alden street, and recommending that N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. be granted pole locations on Chapel street.

PUBLIC WORKS: Recommending taking land for sewer in Simms court and submitting resolutions about school houses.

RULES, ETC.: Submitting draft of proposed ordinance reorganizing the Assessing Department, and reporting that ordinances relative to the Library, the City Hall employees, the speed of horses and the expenditure of appropriations were correctly enrolled.

The following reports were accepted: PUBLIC FRANCHISES: Recommending transfer of intelligence office license of Violet Davis to Quirk Court recommending granting bowling alley license to A. V. Carlson, and reporting no action necessary on petition of Gas. Co. for pole locations on Berwick road.

PUBLIC WORKS: Recommending leave to withdraw on petitions for drainage of Pine Ridge road and Elmore street.

The following report was received from the Street Light Committee:

The special Committee on Street Lighting, appointed under Order 27205 of the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newton, having completed their investigations, submit herewith its report with recommendations for the improvement of the municipal lighting.

It was at once apparent to the Commission that there was much need of an accurate record of the number, character and location of the lights. Plans have accordingly been prepared giving the correct location on the street of every municipal light and showing by conventions the character of the light and if an arc light, how suspended. These were best represented by two plans, one being a plan of the whole city on a single sheet which shows in general all the streets lighted, the grouping of the lights, by districts, and the districts most in need of light.

The second plan is in the form of an atlas, showing on a larger scale the location, character of each light on the street, and its relation to adjoining lights and buildings.

For the purposes of designating the lights, numbers by wards and precincts have been assigned to each light and marked on the plans. The convenience of this method will be apparent later in this report and will doubtless be of service in transacting street lighting business in the future.

The results of these records show that there are now in service in the city 2371 lights, classed as follows: 191 Arc, 1029 Incandescent, 930 Gas, 200 Oil, 21 Bridge.

Of the 198 miles of public and private streets in the City, 164 miles are lighted, the remainder are generally private streets, but partially built, with so few houses that there is little necessity for street lighting.

The Commission in a body have viewed all the lighted streets and have inspected each light while in service. Careful consideration has been given to different systems of lighting by Welsbach gas and Welsbach naphtha lights. Exhibit lights have been placed on trial by the different companies furnishing these lights, and lights of this class used in the town of Brookline and City of Cambridge have been viewed.

While the candle power in a single unit furnished by this class of light is much more than that furnished by the present oil, gas or incandescent lights, this Commission considering the necessity for distributing the lighting over a long mileage of streets and the extra expense of each unit, doubt the advisability of changing the system of lighting.

The Commission has also given consideration to the question of municipal lighting. The laws now in force prescribing the method of purchasing gas and electric light companies, (Sec. 2, Chap. 34,) are so complicated and there is such diversity of opinion on the merits of the question that we are not prepared to make a recommendation without first as far as possible obtaining the wishes of the citizens of Newton. We therefore recommend that there be a public hearing on this subject, after which we believe the Board of Aldermen will be in better position to determine whether further action should be taken.

We wish to call special attention to the fact that, while the question of the relative cost of the present arrangement of lights and that recommended by this report was not given the first consideration, after the changes are made the cost to the city for lighting will be but $209 more than the cost under the present arrangement, and while we are not convinced that in every instance the recommendations which we have made are the best possible for the particular locality affected, when the results for the whole city are considered we doubt if a better arrangement can be made, unless the cost is greatly increased, and further we are convinced that the suggestions which we make will give different sections of the city the same amount of light; in other words, each part of the city will be lighted as well as every other part. As recommended by the Board of Aldermen, Street Commissioner Ross and City Engineer Farnham have attended all the meetings of the Commission and have given valuable advice and suggestions in assisting this Commission in arriving at the recommendations herein reported, Mr. Farnham having acted as Secretary of the Commission.

The following is a summary of the changes recommended: Removals, 10 Arc, 49 Incandescent, 15 Bridge, 133 Gas, 48 Oil. New, 11 Arc, 214 Incandescent, 60 Gas, 4 Oil. New locations, 10 Arc, 83 Incandescent, 95 Gas, 9 Oil. Longer arm, 30 Arc, 48 Incandescent.

The accompanying appendix gives the details of changes in the number, character and location of the lights voted at the meetings of the Commission. Respectfully submitted, John W. Weeks, Walter B. Trowbridge, Walter Chesley.

Alderman Mellen said that he was aware that the street light matter was an intricate problem in Newton but he believed the Commission had approached it in the right way, and they have done excellent work. He believed the board should appreciate their action.

Alderman Brown said that the commission deserve a strong vote of thanks for their good work.

Alderman Trowbridge in answer to questions said that the proposed changes would require an additional grant of $209 and the report was then accepted and the financial matter referred to the Committee on Finance.

A recess was then taken to allow the Finance Committee to meet and upon reassembling, its report recommending that the application of Mary J. Rice for Soldier's Relief be granted, was accepted.

On recommendation of the Finance Committee orders establishing pay of election officers, and transferring $590 from the General School appropriation to School Incidentals were adopted.

Orders granting the Gas Co. pole locations on Alden street, granting the Telephone Co. pole locations on Chapel street, assigning hearing Nov. 17 on taking land in Simms court for sewer; granting $209 for street lights, laying out of Northgate Park, were also adopted.

Ordinances relating to the Library, to employees at City Hall, to speed of horses, and to expenditure of appropriations were passed to be ordained. An ordinance reorganizing the Assessing department so as to provide for 5 principal and 7 assistant assessors was passed to be enrolled and referred to the Committee on Rules.

Another recess was then taken and upon reassembling, the Committee on Rules reported that the assessing ordinance was correctly enrolled, and it was thereupon passed to be ordained. The following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS petitions have been presented to this Board praying that new school accommodations be provided at Chestnut Hill and at Newton Upper Falls, and WHEREAS, the School Committee have not as yet expressed any opinion upon these matters, therefore, be it RESOLVED, that the School Committee be and is hereby requested to render an opinion upon the advisability of erecting new school houses in these particular districts and to state which of said buildings should be first erected.

The order for a hearing Nov. 17 on taking land for sewer in Simms court was reconsidered, amended to Nov. 24, and adopted as amended.

And the board at 9:10 p. m. adjourned to Nov. 10th.

Correspondence.

Editor of the Newton Graphic—

Chatting with a neighbor a few days ago, I was told by him that he had been considering the purchase of a house near by our residence, but that he had decided to move away from Newton because of the harsh treatment he had received from the assessors. I had no question that the assessors were entirely within their legal rights in the matter. I did not discuss the question with him. I mentioned the occurrence to another neighbor, who said that his experience was that the assessors were dooming him higher and higher until presently he should "squeal." Now doubtless in each of these cases the assessors were, as I said before, entirely within their rights; that, according to the law these men are liable for all that the assessors have levied on them. But the affair started up the whole tax question again in my mind and I would ask you and your readers once more to attend to this always present conundrum, how best to raise the money for the public needs. Personally I have so little doubt that my two neighbors, if they paid the full legal amount which they could be called to pay would, under the circumstances of society, pay more than their fair share, that I have no hesitation in assuming that you will agree with me. You and I both know that only a small minority of our fellow citizens pay all that the law supposes them to pay, and that therefore that small minority bear their proportion of the deficit on the part of all the rest of the community.

But no matter about that for the moment; let us admit that I was wrong and that every one pays just what the law calls for and that no evasion by silence or by falsehood occurs. Still the problem of strict justice is not solved. No two men with identically the same inventory or identically the same income are therefore equally right. One has habits, cares, responsibilities, health, far removed from those of the other and the same assessment bears with entirely different weight on the two men. To one his accumulation represents the results of a long life of toil and self denial; the other has received his by inheritance or by a few lucky turns in Wall street.

No, you might as well give up the pretence of justice in our present methods of taxation or in the underlying theory that every one should contribute proportionally to his means. (strength, fixed capital, reproductive and increasing wealth, or what?) to the support of the government and see if you can not start on an entirely new foundation. You can't make the old plan work. Face the issue fairly and say that the municipality (or the state or, for that matter, the nation), owns all the land within its boundaries and proposes to raise its revenue by taxing the land. Please understand that I am not proposing to adopt the single tax theory. I have no scheme of appropriating the "unearned increment." I simply ask you to adopt an ad valorem tax on all the land within your borders. And I believe that it is better policy to maintain the claim that any structure erected on your land becomes a part of the "real estate" and is to be included in its value. This would work against the extreme congestion which might result from restricting the tax to the land values alone. Tall buildings, crowded with humanity seem to be undesirable. The tendency of the taxation of both land and buildings would be to scatter population and, while checking extreme congestion on the one hand, would, on the other, promote reorganization and utilization of all land, and if there is any foundation of truth in the Malthusian theory such occupation and utilization must surely be of advantage to humanity.

So then, I would raise all the revenue from an ad valorem tax on real estate. But, I am at once met with the complaint that the real estate of the community is then at the mercy of the body of the irresponsible men tax paying log rollers; it is true, and so it is today to a considerable degree. Personally I am very proud of the character of our Newton city government, but it is the popular belief that under city governments generally, corruption is rampant and that tax payers are its victims; so that, while we may hope that it will be many years before this evil falls upon Newton, yet we may wisely think of it as a future possibility and see if we can accomplish protection for the tax payer without encroaching upon the rights of the citizens.

When we thus name these two relations we naturally consider their differences, and possibly the quickest and most satisfactory statement of these would be that the citizen is the tenant, having a right to a good, tight, healthy building, well lighted, well janitored and in which he is not unduly interfered with by the other tenants; while the tax payer may represent the landlord, of whom the tenant asks this or that repair or renewal or improvement, reminding him that the rental value of his building is a matter of competition with other buildings and that he must not be niggardly if he wants to retain a good class of tenants.

So, let us advocate this reform in our methods, viz. that all revenue be raised by an ad valorem tax on real estate and that a financial body, be elected by the tax payers, voting, like shareholders in a corporation, according to the multiple of some suitable unit of tax paid by them. This financial body to be very carefully debarred from any initiative action and its function confined to assenting to or refusing the appropriations asked by the local legislature, be it some common council or congress. Every other function except that of "granting supplies" to remain as today in the usual representative body.

Remember that you are creating no class distinction. You are simply giving to those who pay the taxes a veto power upon the expenditure of the money they are providing; and remember again that the very fact that a man has had the ability to accumulate a holding of real estate indicates in itself a fitness for his share in its management; and that you and I, whose business may be running a newspaper or selling sausages, may laugh when we hear of suggestions of municipal extravagance, and quote, "Let the galled jade wince, our withers are unwringing."

"MEMORIES RAMBLES O'ER THE BLUE HILLS."

BY ITA HUTCHINSON O'ROUPLY.

The golden sun was setting far Beyond the near Blue hills His last faint rays were kissing The valleys and the rills.

A pale pink rose before me Softly rolled, the open wide Wafted my spirit homewards While tears rode side by side.

That lovely rose of Sharon's vale Coils Memories round my heart While twilight's shades were mutely saying The day and night must part.

In dream-land's vale I wandered then Till nature called time day And the burning beams of Morning drank The dew drops off the spray.

When the noon-day's sun is roaming Through clouds of white and blue Oh Emerald Isle across the sea Fair Sharon looks like you.

Then when my heart-strings burst—ing My thoughts would grief deride I search the woodland solitude Mid songsters to abide. But my one friend of yester'-een Gave sad but sweet repose Wandering through spirit's lonely halls Was Sharon's blooming rose.

I turned my back to solitude To birds and sweet repose To find Alas—My speechless one Was dead—My pale, pink rose.

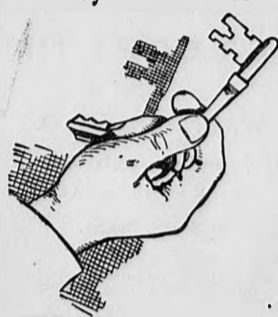

The glories of the morning sun Its piercing rays at noon Stole life sap from that Sharon rose Thus ends life's beauties soon.

Key That Fits

"Half my patients need more iron," said "our doctor." Iron makes rich, red blood. Yet it is very hard to give iron so it will do any good.

There are thousands of keys in the world—only one or two unlock your door. So we know of only one or two combinations of iron that seem to do the work.

By far the most generally useful prescription we know of is Vinol.

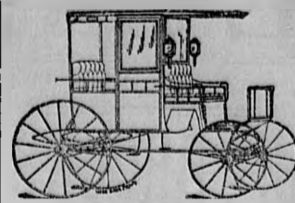

It has helped a great many cases in this town.

It contains the medicinal qualities of cod liver oil, iron—that-can-be-digested, and a little table wine.

It works wonders in weak women, pale children, old people, and any run-down condition. Money back if you want it.

CHILD LABOR.

An Interesting Address at Newtonville.Notable Gathering of Women at Federation Meeting.

The quarterly meeting of the State Federation was held in Newtonville last Friday, by invitation of the Newton City Federation of Clubs in the Central Congregational church and was largely attended. The general topic was the condition of women and children in the various industries. Another attraction was the presence of the president of the general federation, Mrs. Dimie T. Dennison, who arrived with Mrs. Anna D. West, just before the close of the morning session and was warmly received. The morning session opened at 10.30 o'clock with a greeting from the state president, Mrs. May Alden Ward, to which the response was made by Mrs. H. H. Carter president of the hostess organization. The subject of the day was "Women and Children in the Industries," and after a short introduction to the subject by Mrs. Dora M. Goodwin of Haverhill, the first paper was given by Mrs. Lillian G. Breed of Lynn, on "Comparative Work of the State Federations." Her paper was a fine summary of the work done in the different states. She thought that, primarily, educational matters are of paramount interest throughout the country, and then follow industrial conditions affecting women and children, travelling libraries, social economics and civics and a long list of other practical lines of real work, which indicate the wide range of usefulness evolved from the once purely literary movement.

The principal address of the morning was made by Mr. Horace G. Wadlin, chief of the bureau of labor statistics in Massachusetts, who gave an interesting account of the general conditions of women and children in industry, speaking especially of "child labor." In conclusion he said: "Whatever view may be taken of the industrial employment of women, it is clear that the period of childhood should be that of free and unrestricted physical growth, that the adult man may be vigorous and vital. This is peculiarly essential in America, where life is so intense. Childhood should be a period of mental and moral discipline and education. In short, children should have no legal status as workers, but only as pupils. And, above all, the poverty of the parents should not be allowed to foster the one condition or to frustrate the other. The state should not permit the future usefulness of its citizens to be jeopardized by causes within its control."

A discussion followed Mr. Wadlin's address. The second address was by Miss Katherine Pettit of Louisville, Ky., on "Social Settlement Work among the Kentucky Mountaineers," describing the isolation and total lack of education which she and other Kentucky club women had found among the mountaineers, describing their peculiar ways of thinking and living, and telling what had been done for them and how gratefully the social settlement work is received by the mountaineers.

An intermission at noon was given up to a social hour, and the serving of luncheon by the hostess club. The afternoon session opened shortly after 2 o'clock. Mrs. Ward explained that Mrs. Denison would not be able to give the address on the program on account of a severe cold, which affected her voice.

Miss Bacon, vice president of the Massachusetts Federation, read part of an article on "Child Labor in Georgia," saying that the South is awakening to the needs of laws regulating child labor. Restrictive laws have been passed in Louisiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, South Carolina and Texas. Mrs. Ward read a letter from Caroline D. Grainger, president of the Georgia Federation, showing some of the obstacles in the way of passing a suitable bill in that state to prohibit child labor. The writer maintained that a compulsory school bill would not prevent the evil. Often the families in Georgia want money more than comfort, and under the present law the father has absolute control of the time of his children. Model schools, with industrial training, are being established, and the letter asked for the help of the Massachusetts Federation in carrying on this work.

On motion of Miss Helen L. Whittier, vice president of the Federation, it was voted that the education committee of the Federation formulate some plan to cooperate with the Georgia Federation in founding model schools.

Miss Sadie American, New York, then gave an address on "Women and Children in Industry," saying much had been done for women in the sewing trades, for women in the factory, mine and store. In establishing the Manhattan, a trade school in New York, which was opened last Tuesday, it is the intention to meet the wishes of employers as to qualifications, since they have complained they could not get what they wanted. It was found there was a need for general skill in a few directions underlying many trades skill, that was adaptable and could be applied in any direction. The pupils will work first as apprentices and learn in a year what in a factory would take two or three. We have excluded the Chinese, said the speaker, lest they lower the standard of living for our American workwomen.

The speaker referred to the employment of little children of 6 and 7 years of age in the South who work 12 hours, day or night for 10 cents. She laid a large share of responsibility

THE PLAYHOUSE.

TREMONT THEATRE, Nov. 10.—Mr. E. S. Willard.

PARK THEATRE, Nov. 10.—"Josephine, Empress of the French"

COLUMBIA THEATRE, Nov. 10.—"The Defender."

Columbia Theatre.—That cleverest and most musical of all musical comedies, "The Defender," at the Columbia Theatre, has started upon the fourth week of its return engagement under the most flattering circumstances and with every indication of a continuation of its phenomenal success. Apart from its costuming and scenic beauties, which have never been surpassed in a production made in the city of Boston, "The Defender" has musical qualities of decided merit, and as a laugh producer has never been surpassed. Interpreted as it is by the cleverest company of comedians and singers that the Columbia has ever shown at one time, every moment of the performance cannot fail to be of interest. New songs and other features are being continually introduced to add novelty to the performance. The curtain rises promptly at 7.45 p. m., so as to allow out of town patrons ample time and opportunity to make connections for home. The usual matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday at two o'clock.

Grand Opera House.—The Funny Cartoon Frenchmen at the Grand Opera House. When Alfonse and Gaston were first introduced to the Great American reading public by the New York Journal, nobody ever expected that they would soon become public benefactors and fulfil the desires of their generous hearts in a manner they had never suspected. All that may have endeared them to the readers of the Journal will be found in the comedy which, however, will be seen to abound with new situations, incidents and circumstances. Everybody wants to see them in the flesh. They are made to step out of the pictures on to the stage where he has surrounded them with some of the cleverest people, the prettiest girls, and the most uproariously amusing circumstances available. The costumes are rich, the scenery of the finest and full of new devices; and the musical numbers will become popular as soon as heard. It is hoped, for every effort has been made to excel in this particular. The usual matinees will be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Park Theatre.—The most notable production of the present season will be made by Corse Payton at his Park Theatre next Monday, Nov. 10th, when Alfred Roland Haven's great historical drama, "Josephine, Empress of the French" will be elaborately staged and acted for a series of performances continuing only through the week. The part of Josephine will be played by Una Abell Brinker, the leading lady of Mr. Payton's Stock Company. She is in every way fully equipped for the character, and she will give a striking and effective interpretation of it. Napoleon will be played by Walter Wilson, who promises to look and act the great general to the life. As "Josephine, Empress of the French" cannot be continued beyond the limit of a single week's run, the patrons of the Park theatre should make early application for seats.

MR. E. S. WILLARD, AT THE TREMONT THEATRE.

ty for the employment of child labor upon northern capitalists and called it a blot not on the South, but upon the whole country. She showed the fallacy of the night schools for these children, who are too tired to attend. Mrs. Denison spoke a few words of greeting, and the meeting adjourned after singing "America." An informal reception to Mrs. Denison followed.

TO GRACE CHURCH.
Where'er in the years of the Future
My wandering steps may roam,
Though Duty's path may lead me
Far from my childhood's home,
There will ever dwell in memory
A vision dear and dim,
Of the old familiar church where oft
I knelt in prayer to Him.

Once in the gray of twilight
I chanced to pass it by,
And marked its slender graceful spires Uplifting to God's blue sky.
The shadows hung dark and gloomy
Like a seeming funeral pall
But the church in its sacred beauty
Spread a blessing over all.

How oft 'neath its roof I have listened To counsels of Truth and of Love
Descended His Grace from above.
Then my heart forgot its sadness,
And all that within me was beat Arose in a song of gladness
Bringing peace and hope and rest.
And so with its dear-fringed memories
It will ever recall to me,
All that is pure and holy,
All that I fain would be.
And when in life's own deep twilight
I watch the swift darkening sky,
May its influence linger o'er me
Till I enter His Church on High.

A SERIOUS FIRE.

GOOD WORK OF FIRE DEPT. AT THE CHANNING CHURCH FIRE.

The Channing Unitarian church of Newton, one of the largest and finest church buildings in the city, was damaged by fire Saturday afternoon to the amount of $4,000.

The prompt discovery of the fire and excellent work by the firemen alone prevented a more serious loss. It was about 1.30 in the afternoon that the janitor, Mr. B. S. Wetherbee, while dusting the seats in the main auditorium, noticed a strong smell of smoke. He went to the chapel, which is situated in a wing of the building, and found it filled with smoke.

Further investigation showed a closet adjoining the supper room on the second floor to be full of fire, and Mr. Wetherbee promptly pulled in an alarm from box 114, and which was followed by a second alarm on the arrival of Chief Randlett.

The fire, which was confined to the church dining room over the chapel, had gained considerable headway, and the firemen had a hard task in preventing its working into the main auditorium. It was two hours before the flames were finally extinguished.

While the upper portion of the interior of the wing was badly burned, the largest damage on the first floor was caused by water. The stage and scenery in the room used by the Entertainment Club were deluged.

The fire is thought to have started in a store closet off the dining room. The loss is covered by insurance. The main auditorium was not damaged except by smoke, and services were held as usual on Sunday.

Arthur W. Porter, a hosenman of Engine No. 1, was overcome by the smoke when at work in the second floor and was removed to his home in the police ambulance.

At a meeting of the Standing Committee of the church resolutions commending the good work of the firemen were adopted.

ONLY TWO HORSES.

Yet They Must Perform the Work of Four.Something About Brave Little Pair
Of the Police Department.

To the Editor of the Graphic:—

Overheard at the fire at Channing church last Saturday were many words of criticism directed at the police department because of a tardy response to an ambulance call. In my opinion these were as unjust as they were unfavorable.

It is not my intention to trespass upon the Graphic's columns in defence of the management of the police force, but rather to enlighten the critics.

It is, in my opinion, an unusual condition which the ambulance and patrol wagon system is obliged to labor under. Only two horses are used for day and night service.

Little thought is given to this brave and sturdy pair, which draw the big and ugly car of a patrol wagon and speeds along with the smooth running ambulance. Newton people alone can realize the vast area that these two horses are compelled to travel over. Any one who is familiar with the frequent hurry-up and ambulance calls that are registered knows that hills and dales, rain and snow, are all the same to these two horses as they must encounter everything.

Perhaps some amount of detail of the work this pair is compelled to perform might be more convincing, yet in my judgment it is sufficient to say that they do the work of four horses and have been for many years.

Having known of the two little horses and their duties for some time I have watched their progress with interest. I venture to say that it is the good care and the careful driving they receive that keeps them in such good trim.

That this pair is fast becoming worn out in faithful service; that 24 hours' service each day of the week is too much for man or beast; that Newton can well afford to furnish proper equipment for this very important branch of municipal service, and "shifts" among horses as well as among men may prove to be "for the good of the service" are my contentions and those I desire to publicly express.

Leverett Bentley.

Newton Club.

Elaborate preparations were made by the Club to receive the election returns on Tuesday, the program beginning with a dinner at 6 p.m., at which Hon. Wm. H. Moody, secretary of the Navy was the guest of honor.

Proceeding the dinner an informal reception was given Mr. Moody, at which President James Richard Carter, Mayor John W. Weeks and Hon.
E. L. Pickard assisted. The tables were finely decorated with roses and ferns and was attended by a large number of representative gentlemen.
Among those seated at the table were Hon. S. L. Powers, Hon. J. W.
Weeks, Hon. J. A. Fernald, Hon. H.
E. Cobb, Hon. E. B. Wilson, Hon.
E. L. Pickard, Representative G. P.
Bullard, Col. A. M. Ferris, Aldermen
W. H. Patisier and A. P. Carter,
Chas. E. Hatfield, W. M. Flanders, W.
S. Slocum, S. W. Jones, Frederick Johnson, F. T. Benner, A. C. Walworth, F. J. Hale, G. F. Simpson, W.
J. Follett, Abraham Byfield, W. M.
Ferris, J. W. French, E. T. Fearing,
J. B. Fuller, W. H. Lucas, G. H.
Bond, C. M. Boyd, W. H. Coolidge, C. S. Dennison, L. H. Bailey, Ernest
Wright, E. K. Hall, W. F. Garcelon,
E. E. Kent, E. D. Van Tassel, W. C.
Kimball, F. L. Nagle, S. C.
Lowe, W. H. Young, H. R. Nash, A.
H. Paul, F. E. Whiting, F. A. Payne,
J. L. Jefferson, A. F. Cooke, F. E.
Bass, S. W. Pray, H. M. Davis, C. S.
Cobb, E. P. Hatch and F. H. Potter.
After the dinner the party with later arrivals numbering about 200 adjourned to the assembly hall where telephone and telegraph instruments had been installed and the returns were announced by Representative Bullard.

The crowd was in good humor, republican success being greeted with cheers and yells and the Gaston men present coming in for some good natured guffing.

During the evening Secretary
Moody was induced to say a few words and was given an enthusiastic greeting. He said in part:

President Roosevelt is our kind of a gentleman, loyal to the people and devoted to their interests. He has no personal ambitions and has a way of speaking for himself.

In his recent successful efforts to end the coal strike he thoroughly understood that in making that intervention he imperiled his entire political career but believed his duty demanded the effort.

Mr. Moody then spoke a word for the navy, saying that every man in the department was working every day to prepare the navy for war. He believed that the place to defend the country was on the high seas, and not to wait until the enemy entered our harbors. He desired a navy composed of heavy fighting ships and believed that the only way to ensure peace was by developing a powerful navy.

Later in the evening, Congressman Powers made a characteristic speech saying that the only machine back of him in this campaign was the Newton Club. He was pleased and gratified at his vote in Newton and was proud of his friends in the Newton Club who had launched him into politics and stood so loyally by him.

He said we are all Americans and the country is safe whichever way the election goes, but it is safer when ever it goes as a majority of the Newton Club desire. Mr. Powers was given three cheers and a tiger,
and the members heard the returns, including that from New Bedford, until a late hour.

High score at duplicate whist Monday evening, was made by F. E.
Marston and G. A. Page. The scores

TO THE WOMEN.

Some women are just a trifle timid
about going to a bank to transact business.
And why? Simply because they are not familiar with the rules of banking. This shouldn't be so, and, indeed, this isn't so
with those who come to this bank, for
we aim to make every transaction so
clear and so plain, that dealing with a bank soon becomes to them an easy
habit.

We appreciate the patronage of women.
Their business with us is already large and
steadily increasing. If you are not now a patron, then please consider this an invitation to become one.

The bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Frederick H. Hutaff of New York, awaited the bride at the altar. Miss Elkins made a lovely bride, attired in an exquisite gown of Brussels applique over white satin and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. After the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father, 256 Highland street. ## SUNDAY GOLF.

Woodland Club Makes Correspondence Public.

Claims Courteous Treatment of Auburndale Petition.

Following is an open letter from the executive committee of the Woodland Golf Club of Auburndale concerning golf playing on Sunday on its links, and the protest recently made by the Rev. Charles M. Southgate, pastor of the Congregational church of Auburndale.

Auburndale, Oct. 29, 1902.

To the Members of the Committee of the Auburndale Congregational church: The executive committee of the Woodland Golf Club has learned with much surprise that your members were much offended at the tone and substance of the reply which we sent to a letter recently written to us by the Rev. Mr. Southgate.

The message received from the Auburndale pastor was taken up immediately upon its receipt at a special meeting of our executive committee called for that purpose; was seriously considered, and, as we thought, and still think respectfully answered. The pastor himself, has since assured one of our committeemen that he took only one exception to our letter, namely, that it did not concede the point which his communication demanded.

The newspaper articles have given us the first intimation we have had that any other person than Mr. Southgate himself was interested in or responsible for the letter we had the honor to receive from him. Indeed, he assures us on this point in the following words: "This letter is personal and unofficial in pursuance of any vote or from a committee."

The conversations which your members have had with friends, with newspaper reporters, and in the hearing of strangers on the cars, together with newspaper articles—evidently inspired by your committee, inasmuch as they follow so closely upon its movements and coincide so closely to what some members of your church have stated to our committeemen, bring to us at least one fact which might have been of some assistance to us in forming our reply to Mr. Southgate's letter, namely that his message did emanate from a committee and was official and in pursuance of a vote.

These various newspaper reports and conversations all bear heavily upon one point that our letter gave such offence to the members of your church that your committee was immediately called together and started directly for police headquarters to seek redress and satisfaction. Our committee preferred not to make an appearance in the public press rather preferring and supposing that the action of our club members in refraining from playing golf last Sunday would serve to put a period to the romancing of the young Auburndale reporter of the Herald. However the edition of Monday morning brought out from his pen a still more unwarrantable brand of comments, in wide of the mark that it seems advisable to publish both letters and thus enable those who are interested in the matter to judge for themselves as to whether our reply was warranted and respectful or "saucy," "disrespectful" and "without tact."

Auburndale Oct. 9, 1902.

To the Secretary of the Woodland Golf Club—

Dear Sir: It seems to me both courteous and fair that some one should indicate to the officers of your club the strong feeling in Auburndale against the Sunday playing on your links. Something is certain to be done about it, and, as the statute is distinct, to call on the police to interfere would be a simple way. But, as a citizen, I should regret such a necessity or the publicity of gathering signatures to some paper. In a public service at our church, on the general question of observance of the Lord's day, this particular matter was brought up with much earnestness on the part of some who had looked into it. If you want protest or resolution, they can be furnished abundantly, but the club may prefer to deal with this violation of the law as on its own motion. This letter is personal and unofficial, not in pursuance of any vote nor from a committee, but written simply with the hope that the club may settle the question promptly and finally with no outside pressure.

Very truly yours,

Charles M. Southgate,

Pastor Congregational Church, Auburndale, Mass.

Dear Sir: At a meeting of our board of directors held today your letter of the 9th inst. was read and the question of Sunday golf discussed. Inasmuch as our board consists of but nine persons, and the subject one of interest to the whole club, and taking into account that the playing season for this year is nearly over, it was decided to present the question to the club at its annual meeting in March, when the matter will be taken up and settled.

Very respectfully,

Our letter to Mr. Southgate would be better understood by the general public if the following facts were borne in mind: First, that the golf playing season is nearly at an end, all tournaments having been finished. Second, that before the next golf season opens we shall have had our regular annual meeting on the first Wednesday in March, when a much larger representation of the general membership could be secured for the consideration of a question so important as the termination of a practice that has been in progress on our course for seven years without a complaint from any neighbor near the grounds or a protest from any person in Newton. It should also be borne in mind by those who are considering the general subject of Sunday golf at Auburndale that, out of the 160 members, an average of only 14 during the past season have played golf on Sunday, and that generally after 1 o'clock our course is as quiet and deserted as any Sabbatharian could wish.

Furthermore no caddies are allowed to serve the players on Sunday, nor are the members allowed to carry caddy bags through the streets on the Lord's day; nor are members of other clubs or strangers permitted to use the course on that day.

This last regulation was not formerly adhered to with strictness, but latterly has been made a rule of the club and strictly followed out. That part of the course nearest to Washington street, the main thoroughfare of the city, is not used on Sunday.

All these regulations were adopted with the view of offering as little offence as possible to those who differ from us in their opinions of Sabbath day observance.

Our executive committee has unanimously gone upon record as unwilling to offer any encouragement to golf playing on the Sabbath so long as there is a defensible state statute against it, but has at the same time gone on record as unwilling to prohibit any of its members from playing, provided they wished to do so and could make their peace with the law and with their own consciences, leaving it entirely with the individual to satisfy both these censors. The club, as a club, will not enter into any court proceedings or "test case." But it is impossible to predict what any individual member of this club or any other club may think best to do in reference to the matter.

Executive Committee Woodland Golf Club.

Why I am not a "Christian Scientist."

Some weeks ago I saw in The Christian Science Journal an article entitled, "Why I am a Christian Scientist." I have read the article two or three times, trying to find the reasons for being a Christian Scientist; and to be entirely frank, I am bound to say, that, having in mind their peculiar doctrines and beliefs, I failed to find even one good logical reason for adopting their faith.

I did find in the article quite a number of good reasons why everyone should be a faithful, earnest, Christian, as no doubt very many of these people are. And these leads me to give some of the reasons why I am not a Christian Scientist. Of course to judge fairly of a set of doctrines or beliefs we must go to the acknowledged authority on which they are founded. Mrs. Eddy is generally acknowledged to be the author of the principal claims of Christian Science as set forth in her book called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Her chief object seems to be to deny the reality of sickness, sin or evil, suffering and death. And yet she treats them all through the book as though they were very real to herself. She mentions a number of severe cases of sickness or injury that she claims to have cured. On page 4 she speaks of "the awful unreality called evil," and yet many times in the book she speaks of evil as she could not if she did not believe in its reality, and everybody knows that its reality is what makes it "awful." One or two quotations will suffice to show her inconsistency in regard to the "unreality of evil."

"There are evil beliefs, often called evil spirits; but these evils are not Spirit or they could not be evil." Page 273, "Want of social equality is a crying evil, occasioned by the selfishness of the world."

Mrs. Eddy claims to have great reverence for the Bible, and yet her book is a continuous denial of the plain teachings of the Bible. Nothing is more plainly taught in the Bible than the reality of sin, sickness, and death. If sickness were not real, Christ would not have healed the sick or commanded his disciples to heal them. If sin were not a terrible reality Christ would not have suffered death on the cross in order that men might be saved from the consequences of sin. A very bold denial of the clear teachings of scripture, as well as of all experience, is found on page 45 in these words, "The blood, heart, lungs, brain, etc., have nothing to do with Life." Gen. 9-4 says: "But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat."

Leviticus 17-11: "For the life of the flesh is the blood." Deut. 12-23: "Only be sure that thou eat not of the blood; for the blood is the life," etc. Does anybody doubt that if Mrs. Eddy should cut an artery she would at once send in hot haste for a doctor to staunch the flow of blood for fear she would lose her life?

Mrs. Eddy claims that belief acting through the mind is the only thing that produces pain or sickness. Page 59, "The human mind is all that can produce pain." Again, page 135, "Mortal mind is the acknowledged seat of motives; it forms material concepts, and produces every discordant action of the body." Thus she magnifies the power and importance of the mind; and then, per contra, she says the mind is nothing. On page 177, "The mind supposed to exist in matter, or beneath a skull-bone, is a myth." Page 583, "Mortal mind, Nothing, claiming to be something, for mind is immortal." Page 483, "And there really is no such thing as mortal mind." As to "belief" causing all the suffering and sickness it has always been conceded, that the mind often affects the body seriously or otherwise, sometimes even causing sickness; but a very little thought, in regard to our own actual experiences, ought to show, and will show us, that in a vast majority of cases the pain or sickness comes first, and it is the pain or sickness that causes the "belief." Mrs. Eddy says the majority of beliefs rule. Page 48, The chemist, the botanist, the druggist, the doctor, and the nurse equip the medicine with their faith, and the majority of beliefs rule." This statement may seem to be borne out in some cases, but that it is utterly without foundation in fact, is shown in the knowledge or experiences, or both, of every person who has lived long enough to remember experiences.

One case in point is that of our late president Mr. McKinley. Probably there was only one person in the United States who believed he would be shot, and not one in a thousand had any apprehension as to his safety and yet he was shot. Then again after having been shot, the vast majority fully believed that he would recover.

Mrs. Eddy encourages parents to lie to their children. Page 48, "Such a mother runs to her little one who has hurt her face by falling on the carpet and says 'mamma knows you are hurt'; 'the more successful method of treatment is to say 'you are not hurt' etc. She herself says the child is hurt but advises the parent to declare it is not so.

To point out all the illogical and fallacious statements and assertions in Mrs. Eddy's book would, I think, oblige one to refer to or quote from nearly every page in the book; but a few more quotations will be sufficient and will need no refutation to the ordinary mind.

Page 417, "A moral question may hinder the recovery of the sick. Lurking error, envy, revenge, and malice will perpetuate, or even create disease." The truth of this statement is admitted and is quoted only to show that she clearly admits the existence of sickness and disease; and indeed she does in many places while the main contention and claim of Christian Science is that there is really no such thing as sickness and disease. Page 376 "Without illusion any circumstance is of itself powerless to produce suffering."

Page 381, "Bathing and rubbing to alter the secretions or remove unhealthy exhalations from the cuticle receive a useful rebuke from Christian healing." Page 176, "Trees, plants, and flowers are ideas of mind; mind multiplies them and the product can be only mental." Page 483, "The believer and belief are one, and are mortal mind. And there is really no such thing as mortal mind." Page 421, "Bones have been formed them. They are only an appearance, a subjective state of mortal mind. The so-called substance of bone is formed first by the parent's mind, through self-division. Soon the child becomes a separate, individualized mortal mind, that takes possession of itself and its own bones."

If more absurd nonsense than the above paragraph, can be put into the same space, I do not know how it can be done.

My quotations from Mrs. Eddy's book are necessarily brief, but I have intended not to omit anything that would change the sense. It would seem to be entirely unnecessary to refute the errors of the Christian Science "beliefs," as promulgated by Mrs. Eddy, were it not for the fact that very many bright and Christian people are trying to make themselves and others believe, that they believe these strange, and we must say, absurd, doctrines.

It is not denied that many who call themselves "Christian Scientists" are sincere Christians, and living lives above reproach, except that in their lives they are constantly doing things that are entirely inconsistent with what they claim to believe. It is past comprehension how they can think it is right to say that they believe things that no person can believe, and that they prove by their actions that they do not believe. For instance, they claim that there is really no such thing as sickness, that is, sickness is not real, but only a belief; and yet they take as many precautions against sickness as Christians. They claim to believe, that there is no such thing as suffering, that it is not real; and yet if they believed this they would just as soon put their hands into boiling water as into cold water; and they would put on no more wraps, when going out riding in the coldest winter weather than they would on a warm summer day, etc. If one of them has a bad cold, she says it is only "a belief in a cold" not seeming to seeher inconsistency and contradiction in terms of having a belief in a cold, and at the same time claiming to believe that there is no such thing.

I am not a Christian Scientist then. First: Because it denies the very plain teachings of the Bible. Second: Because it is neither Christian nor Scientific.

Third: Because it is out of harmony with the fundamental principles of logic and common sense. Fourth: Because it is in direct antagonism to and denial of the experiences of every human being.

BOILING IT DOWN.

A Valuable Lesson in the Gentle Art of Omitting.

"It was this way," was explaining a quite fresh and young appearing gentleman to a much older companion as I took a seat near them in the restaurant. "I thought that it was quite a clever short story, and as the professor had asked me to read it to him for the purpose of criticism he listened patiently for the thirty minutes that it took me to go through it."

"Good for the first writing," he said, "but you must learn the art of omitting. You have unnecessary sentences. Find them, omit them and come and read it again."

"I followed his advice, and the next time it took me twenty minutes to read it."

"Better," he said. "Try it again, for there is more you can omit."

"I didn't show the annoyance that I felt, but did more and more cutting and condensing. Then I read it to him again in fifteen minutes."

"That is nearer to the correct thing," he said, with an approving nod, "but there is chance for a little more pruning."

"It was with an effort that I restrained myself, but knowing that he is an authority in literary matters for the third time I went to the slaughter of the innocents and, returning the next day, read it to him in ten minutes."

"That is something like," he exclaimed, slapping me on the back. "Another little omitting sentence will fix it."

"This is a little too much," I answered as I seized my manuscript, with a show of feeling. "You had better tell me to omit every word of it."

"That's it, my boy, that's it," he replied. "It is too much. Omit the rest, and you will never hear a word of adverse criticism."

"I'll be hanged if I didn't take his advice again and throw the story in the wastebasket."—New York Herald.

The extinct Northern "Sea Cow." In the year 1754 the Berlin explorers discovered gigantic species of tytina, or northern sea cow. These enormous mammals were similar in general habits to those of the South American coast and were from twenty to thirty feet in length and from ten to twenty feet in girth. They were very stupid, harmless beasts and lived by browsing on seaweeds and other marine growths near the land. The sea cows were not slow in finding out that a sea cow steak but seal meat "all hollow." From 1754 until 1768 they were the principal food of the sailors and explorers on our western coast. This being the case, it is not at all surprising that the northern sea cow, never a very numerous species, should become extinct in the short space of fourteen years. The last of the giant mammals was killed in September, 1768, a few months less than fourteen years after the discovery of the first one.

A Wise Answer.

The shah once asked a group of courtiers when they thought the greater man—himself or his father. At first he could get no reply to so dangerous a question, the answer to which might cost the courtiers their heads. At last a witty old courtier said, "Your father, sire, for, though you are equal to your father in all other respects, in this he is superior to you—that he had a greater son than you have."

Logic.

"The vessel is on the rocks!" shouted the captain, thrusting his head in the ship's saloon.

"That's good news," remarked the idiotic passenger who was taking his first trip abroad. "So long as we are on the rocks we can't sink."—Ohio State Journal.

—The Windsor Hall and Waban schools joined in celebrating Hallowe'en last Friday evening at the girls' school on Windsor road.

—We are sorry to have to report the severe illness of Miss Elizabeth Burnett, who is suffering at the Newton hospital with appendicitis.

—The Waban Woman's Club met Monday with their president, Mrs. Miller, and listened to a very interesting lecture on Woman's Suffrage by Miss Alice Stone Blackwell.

—Mr. Eliot H. Robinson of Windsor road entertained a party of friends on Hallowe'en. The unique character of the mystic night was fully sustained and some thirty young people enjoyed the traditional ceremonies which mark the Vigil of All Saints. The evening's pastimes included the classic "bobbing for apples," the oracles of the apple peel, the "ring-and-bean test," the horoscope of the candle and other auguries of the future. A real fortune teller was present and confirmed the predictions of the signs and omens. A characteristic Hallowe'en supper was served and the guests took their leave at an appropriately "witching hour," happy in their fate.

—The Waban school football team defeated an eleven from Dwight school, Boston, last Saturday by a score of 30 to 0.

Board of Aldermen.

The adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen, held last Monday evening, was attended by President Weed and Aldermen Barber, Brown, Carter, Chesley, Ensign, Hubbard, Hutchinson, Lathrop, Mellen, Norris, Saltston, Trowbridge and Webster.

A petition was received from the rector and wardens of the Grace church, asking for a deed of certain lots in the old Centre street burying ground for charitable purposes. A desultory discussion followed and the petition was finally received.

A petition of S. H. Smith to move a building from Temple to Auburn street was granted without reference on motion of Alderman Trowbridge.

The application for increased Soldiers' Relief from Mary Allen on account of price of coal was received and upon explanation of the City Clerk, he was authorized to grant additional assistance during the coming winter at his discretion.

The favorable report of the committee on departments on the order for city documents for 1902 was received.

An order for the city election on Dec. 9 was adopted.

The order granting burial rights to the Grace church in the old Centre street burying ground was referred to the Committee on Public Works.

In speaking on this matter, Alderman Trowbridge questioned the policy of granting such permission unless other churches were to be given similar rights.

Alderman Barber said that only permission to buy was granted and he believed other parishes could be accommodated.

Alderman Hutchinson said he had understood that former city governments had granted similar rights and that this was simply a continuance. Otherwise he believed in further investigation.

Street Commissioner Ross explained the conditions at the burying ground and reference was then made on motion of Alderman Mellen.

The order for printing city documents for 1902 was presented by Alderman Norris, and President Weed ruled that it did not call for the expenditure of money.

Alderman Trowbridge said the matter was being considered by the Finance Committee in connection with the budget and favored delay.

Alderman Saltston questioned the advisability of printing so many reports.

City Clerk Kingsbury then explained that the contract was authorized now as the school committee desired its report printed at once.

The bound volumes are for the use of the city government, and the pamphlet copies for public distribution.

The order was then tabled.

The returns of the state election held November 4th, were signed by the members present and President Weed made formal declaration of the election of Wm. F. Dana and Edgar W. Warren as representatives to the General Court.

And the board at 8:25 p. m. adjourned until Nov. 24 at the usual hour.

Newton Education Association.

The first meeting of the Newtonville section was held at the house of President Heath last Monday evening. Miss Laura Fisher, director of kindergartens, Boston, addressed a large gathering on the subject of the "Training of Young Children."

Mrs. Percy Widdington of England will speak before the Newton Education Association at the New Church parlors, Newtonville, Monday evening, Nov. 17, at 8 o'clock on "The Education Bill for England," now being considered by the British Parliament.

The subject is of lively importance in present English party politics.

The speaker, known before marriage as Miss End Stacey, is one of the ablest speakers ever sent out by the Fabian Society.

Those who were fortunate enough to hear Mrs. Widdington two years ago will not fail to hear her now. Others should make a great effort to avail themselves of this rare privilege. The public is cordially invited.

"Annual Rifle Competition."

The annual rifle match between the teams of the Claffin Guard Veteran Association and the Claffin Guards, Co. C., 5th Infantry of this city, was held at the range of the Massachusetts Rifle Association at Walnut Hill, Saturday, Nov. 8th.

Owing to the absence of a number of the prominent "veteran shots," the active company had a somewhat easier time in winning than they otherwise would have had, and succeeded in wresting from the Veteran team by a score of 288 to 275, the "Loving Cup," which is shot for annually.

The scores were as follows:

Washington Letter.

Washington, Nov. 10, 1902.

Anxiety, satisfaction and exultation have characterized the sentiment in administration circles in Washington during the past week and when on Saturday, Representatives Babcock and Caverstreet called at the White House, they met with a reception from the President which enthused every onlooker.

Mr. Roosevelt congratulated them in the warmest terms on the able manner in which they had conducted the campaign and it is rumored that Mr. Overstreet whispered to the President that the speakership of the House would be an appropriate reward for his colleague's able management of five successive campaigns. At least, Mr. Overstreet expressed that opinion later to the newspaper men in the ante-chamber.

The din of the election had not died away when the skirmish guns of a new contest were heard in Washington. This contest has for its end the speakership of the Fifty-eighth Congress. Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania has come to Washington and announced his candidacy. He is known as a high protectionist and, in view of the alleged Iowa defection and the tariff revision sentiment in certain sections of the West, he believes that the "stand pat" men will find it to their interest to combine on a man who is known to be sound on the tariff question. It is frankly stated around the White House that there will be no tariff revision in the immediate future and that even the President's recommendation of a bipartisan tariff commission, previously outlined in these letters, will not mean tariff revision, but merely a board competent to listen to complaints and advise Congress should revision become necessary.

Representative Dalzell, announcing himself a candidate for the speakership, speaks like a man who has heard a voice. He tells his friends that he will have the support of the entire Republican delegation from his state including Senator Quay, and this is taken to mean that Senator Platt is agreeable and that he will suggest, in his somewhat emphatic way, to Representatives Payne and Sherman of New York, both of whom are candidates, that they withdraw from the fight.

The news of eastern contestants does not seem to dismay Mr. Cannon of Illinois who telegraphs to Washington that he has established his headquarters in Chicago and means to make the fight of his life for the position. Mr. Cannon has done good work in the thankless position of chairman of the appropriations committee and feels that it is time he came to his reward, but he has also made many enemies, prominent among them, Representative Hepburn of Iowa, who it is believed would favor the Babcock ticket. It is true that Messrs. Cannon and Hepburn always meet at the speakers' desk and embrace at the close of each session, burying their differences until another session, but there is no reason to believe that Mr. Hepburn would rejoice to see his enemy in the Speaker's chair. Mr. Littlefield of Maine is also doing a little vigorous electioneering.

Another important office is discussed. Since President Roosevelt is the predestined candidate for the presidency, it is said that the vice president must come from the West. There are rumors that Secretary Shaw has aspirations in that direction. On the other hand, it is said that the Cummins faction in Iowa politics would oppose his nomination. Apropos of this statement there is a report from Iowa to the effect that Speaker Henderson will try conclusions with Governor Cummins next spring. General Henderson says the report, believes that the gubernatorial nomination would be an emphatic confirmation of his claim that he represents the best element of Iowa Republicanism and would inaugurate the Cummins faction from the equation. It would, therefore, pave the way for Mr. Shaw's nomination and the latter would be expected to render material assistance to the Speaker's candidacy. Mr. Shaw yesterday denied any knowledge of Gen. Henderson's ambition.

With the statement that the vice-presidency must go to the West there appears to come a conviction that it will go to Iowa. In this connection, a prominent Republican said today that there was "a hoary-headed gentleman in the Senate," from that state who would not now object to taking second place on the ticket and in fact who thought he ought to be seriously considered. The time was when Senator Allison would not have considered the vice-presidential nomination but the effective service which Vice President Hobart rendered to President McKinley and the succession of Mr. Roosevelt seem to have enhanced the popular estimate of that position.

There will be many important changes in the next House of Representatives. If Mr. Cannon secures the speakership the most important chairmanship in the chamber will be open and the gentlemen who seriously oppose his candidacy will undoubtedly be out of the running.

If Senator Platt endorses Mr. Dalzell, Mr. Payne will probably remain at the head of the Ways and Means committee, but the appropriation chairmanship may fall to Mr. Sherman as a reward for his withdrawal. Mr. Montaway of Indiana however, stands next in the order of precedence. The committee on judiciary will have a vacancy, Judge Ray having retired, and that of Merchant Marine and Fisheries will have two vacancies, made especially important by the prospect of the passage of this subsidy bill which it will report. All this makes for the greater gaiety of the approaching session and the log-rolling will be fast and furious probably throughout the term.

Secretary Moody, who returned from his campaign trip recently, told a party of newspaper men that the day of the spellbinder had passed. He said public opinion was now modeled by the press and particularly the weekly newspapers. "People like to give plenty of time to the consideration of public questions," he continued, "and they find them fully set forth in the press."

A Tribute to our Police.

Two or three years ago the chief of police requested the citizens of this city, who intended to be out of town during the summer months to notify him when their houses were to be closed, so that the policemen could look after the premises during their absence.

Last summer I sent word to him that on a certain day I intended closing my house for about two months. An accident to a member of my household prevented our leaving home for more than a week after the time I had set. Late in the evening of the day we were to go away, one of my family informed me a man had entered my grounds and was looking over the house and acting in a suspicious manner. I immediately went to my office to look after this suspicious man. Just then I heard foot-steps on the piazza and quickly my front-door bell was rung.

On opening the door I was confronted by a fine looking policeman, who, recognizing me, explained his presence, saying "I was informed your house was to be closed today and was ordered to look after it till your return. Seeing a light inside I came to find out whether everything was all right or some unauthorized person was in it."

I thanked him for his watchfulness and explained to him why the house was still inhabited and also that it would not be closed for a week. I also informed him that some member of my household might be in the house occasionally at night, during the summer while I was away.

Every night, during this time, when the night policeman saw a light in the house he came to ascertain whether a burglar or a member of my family was in it.

This showed the protecting care exercised by the chief of police, the faithfulness of the night patrolmen and naturally I felt no anxiety about house breakers.

Probably very few of the citizens of Newton fully comprehend how faithfully these policemen look after and guard our homes, not only when we are in them but also when they are closed during the summer outing.

There is a sense of relief in knowing watchful care is constantly exercised to protect our homes from fire and housebreakers. It is always very easy to criticize, find fault and condemn. It should be easier to praise, approve and commend.

The Newton policemen are a fine and fine appearing body of men and the citizens should take pride in so competent and faithful guardians, whose watchful care gives us security by night and by day.

—The text of the Governor Crane proclamation is as follows:

"I hereby appoint, with the advice and consent of the council, Thursday, Nov. 27, to be a day of public thanksgiving and prayer.

"The ancient custom of setting apart a day of Thanksgiving after the harvest has been gathered, which has come down to us from the earliest settlers of Massachusetts, has spread all over this broad land, uniting all people in an expression of gratitude to Almighty God for the evidence of his loving care and protection. In common with the whole nation our beloved Commonwealth has prospered during the year, her schools of learning, her institutions of charity, and the orderly administration of justice, under the form of wise and equitable laws, have diffused the blessings of peace and happiness throughout her borders. On this day, then, let us devoutly remember the providential aid of heaven in the affairs of mankind, invoking the continued favor of the Almighty, that he may be with us as he was with our fathers.

"Given at the Council Chamber, in Boston, this fifth day of November, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and two, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-seventh.

"By his excellency the governor, with the advice and consent of the council.

Bad Taste in the Mouth

When you get up in the morning with a coated tongue and a bad taste in the mouth, you may or may not be seriously ill, but if there is any disease going, your system is just right to catch it.

We know what you think—first you are half persuaded to try Vinol, and then you say to yourself: "That's the same story all the medicines tell; I've heard it before."

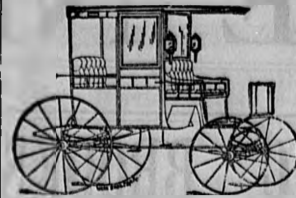

But Vinol is not like other medicines. If it were, we shouldn't be talking about it in any special way.

If you will regulate your bowels with Vinol and take Vinol to improve your digestion and assimilation of food, these troubles, with the headache, "liver complaint," neuralgia, rheumatic pains, and nerve troubles will disappear as by magic.

We pay back the money if it doesn't help you.

Jubilant Dinner.

At the jubilation dinner over the recent Republican victory held by the Middlesex Club in Boston last Saturday, Congressman Samuel L. Powers was among the guests and speakers.

Congressman Powers said: "We had a safe Republican majority in the 12th district. 'We had at least 5000. And there were over 10,000 Republicans in the woods who didn't come out. So that, when the presidential election comes round we expect to show you that that is one of the strongest Republican districts in the state."

We have been through a campaign that has been entirely satisfactory. We have been through a campaign in which we got a little nervous. There was something like a Democratic wave of hopefulness three weeks ago sweeping over this state. But the old Republican party, the old guard got together and won out.

One thing that aided us much in the winning of that race was the fact that at the head of the nation and at the head of the party stood an ideal, an intense American, in whom the people believe, and that was Theodore Roosevelt. (Applause.) The Democratic party sought for all kinds of issues in this campaign, and the fact is I never quite knew what the issues were in this campaign. When the coal strike came on the Democratic party said, "That is our issue." Did you ever notice that when there was a calamity over the country the Democratic party always prospers?

When the coal strike came on it was ended, and how? It was ended simply because the leader of the Republican party, the President of the United States, placed one hand on organized labor and the other on organized capital, and he served notice upon both that each must do their duty by the other, and both must do their duty by the great American people. (Applause.) Under that leadership we cannot fail; under the leadership of Roosevelt two years hence the Republican party, in my judgment will go into power triumphantly. (Loud Applause.)

Congressman Powers was a guest of the Norfolk Club last Friday evening at the United States Hotel and said in part:

"This campaign has been a unique one, because you remember that weeks ago, the Democratic party claimed they were going to carry the state with a whirlwind. Now we have won, and what I say is—that the time has come in Norfolk county to organize and reorganize the Republican party. (A voice, "You're right.") The Republican party, when properly organized, and when it stands for the principles which the best class of people believe in, is bound to win in Norfolk county. It behooves our party, among other things, to initiate such measures regarding the trusts as will stop this socialistic growth which we observe. I believe that in the next session of Congress, such a measure will be enacted to the benefit of the Republican party, yet with nothing in it hostile to party. We must have capital do its duty to labor, and labor do its duty to capital, yet we must see that both do their duty to the great American people."

"Plan upon that plane, and the Republican party is bound to win. One of the most helpful factors of the contest is that at the head of the Republican party and the nation, we have an ideal American, who believes in the people and in whom the people believe. (Prolonged cheers.) And under the leadership of that ideal American two years hence you will see the Republican party sweep this country, as it has never swept the country before."

THE PLAYHOUSE.

TREMONT THEATRE, Nov. 17.—Mr. E. S. Willard.

PARK THEATRE, Nov. 17.—"Only a Farmer's Daughter."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, Nov. 17.—"The Climbers."

COLUMBIA THEATRE, Nov. 17.—"The Defender."

MUSIC HALL, Nov. 17.—"The Great Lafayette"

Park Theatre—A sterling melodrama which has delighted thousands of audiences all over the country, but which has never before been given in Boston will be the production at the Park Theatre next week, beginning Monday, Nov. 17. The title is "Only a Farmer's Daughter," and it tells a plain story of life in the country with a brief picturing of excitement among city scene. The heroine is an attractive girl who is beset by a scheming adventures, but she eventually comes out on top and disconcerts her enemies. A current of comedy runs through the play and serve to enliven the stirring emotional scenes. The cast will include Una Abell Brinker and all the members of Mr. Payton's stock company who have become great favorites with Boston theatre-goers. The subscription patrons of the Park Theatre are rapidly growing in number, and regular patrons should secure good seats by buying them in advance. "Only a Farmer's Daughter" will be followed week after next by "Taken from Life," Henry Pettitt's great English melodrama.

Grand Opera House—"The Climbers" deals with the struggles of a New York family to gain a place in a world once forbidden to it. The story that the comedy contains violates the conventions of the stage by beginning with a scene that passes in a room where a funeral has just taken place. An ambitious mother is distressed at the loss of her husband, but more shocked at the discovery that his wealth has also disappeared. The comments of the women on the funeral, their attempt to sell the clothes bought before the death, and a heartlessness of the group show Mr. Fitch's talents at their best. This scene would alone make the play notable if it did not contain others as much out of the ordinary. One of these is a dinner party which creates the illusion rare enough on the stage, of men and women really enjoying themselves as they do in life. Mr. Fitch's play of social life will be presented under the direction of the Actress-Manager at the Grand Opera House, Boston, next week, with John E. Kellard in the leading role. There will be matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Columbia Theatre—"The Defender" at the Columbia Theatre continues its triumphal way, sustaining the opinion so unanimously accorded it by the public of being the most gorgeous, stupendous and extraordinarily successful musical comedy production ever shown at this house, the recognized home of musical comedy. Produced under the direction of Mr. A. H. Chamberlyn, a past master of his art, "The Defender" could not fail to achieve a marked success, even if it depended solely upon its scenic and costumic beauties. The company of comedians and singers interpreting the piece is the cleverest ever gathered at the Columbia in one production. Mr. Alexander Clark, who is exactly suited in the role of "Sam Keno" as it had been made to measure, has added greatly to his reputation as an excellent comedian, his peculiar abilities being shown to special advantage in the role. He is ably seconded in the nirth producing elements of the show by the popular and clever comedian Mr. Charles Wayne. The tenor solos of Mr. Richie Ling, an operatic tenor of international reputation are one of the strong features of the production. Even the minor roles are in the hands of such capable people as Gilbert Clayton, Gordon Tomkins and Will Armstrong. Charming Emma Carus has achieved another phenomenal success in the new song introduced in the third act entitled "Under the Bamboo Tree." Pretty Lotta Faust still continues her success in the role of Millie and is compelled to respond to numerous encores of "The Good Old Summer Time" at every performance. Theatre-goers seldom have an opportunity to enjoy such rare comedy effects as are produced by Miss Clara Lavine in the role of "Jolly Jelly Canvas." While the solos of Miss Edith Eldredge and Mayme Kelso are heartily received and thoroughly enjoyed, if you wish to enjoy three hours of solid fun in the company of comedians who are funny and singers, who really sing, you should not fail to see a performance of "The Defender" during the present week. So that out of town patrons may have ample opportunity to make connections for home the curtain rises promptly at 7.45 p. m. Matinee performances will be given Wednesday and Saturday at 2 o'clock.

Tremont Theatre—Few comedy operas of the present season will have a more welcome reception in Boston than "The Sultan of Sulu," that famous musical satire by George Ade, of "Fables in Slang," fame coming to the Tremont Theatre, Dec. 1st, for an engagement of one month. This tuneful travesty had a run of three months in Chicago last spring. During its stay at the Studebaker, that Western home of opera, was so besieged with demands that seats had to be placed on sale four weeks in advance. The Ade-Watthall opera was the acknowledged hit of the season in the West and might have continued all summer had not Manager Savage been forced to withdraw "The Sultan" to permit alterations in the theatre. "The Sultan of Sulu" is now making a brief tour of the West where according to all reports it holds the record of the year for big business.

Boston Music Hall—There is a newness that is even new to the stage about the Great Lafayette show which comes next Monday for the entire week to the Boston Music Hall. The Great Lafayette needs no introduction to the theatre-going public for he is known across the continent of America as well as Europe as the world's greatest protean artist. It is his quickness that so quickly brought him to the front as a vaudeville artist. He is a lightning change artist without an imitator. The Great Lafayette is as well known for his wonderful improvements on the conjuring tricks of Ching Ling Foo, as given in his imitation of that Celestial entertainer, as he is for his masterpiece of stagecraft, "The Lion's Bride," a pantomime taken from history of the semi-barbaric age, in which sixty people take part, as well as a full grown forest bred lion and half a dozen horses. Besides this international specialty a long and highly interesting program is presented which includes the Five Nosses, in a Venetian Serenade producing a picturesque musical act, which is considered to be the leading novelty of its character in America. The Two Ducks and a juvenile sketch; Miss Sallie Stemler, comedienne; Miles and Raymond, comedy duo; Mr. Lynn Welcher, monologue entertainer, and the justly famous "Lion's Bride," complete this well balanced aggregation.

Tremont Theatre—The remarkable success which Mr. Willard has gained in impersonating Tom Pinch, one of the most lovable of Charles Dickens' characters, renders especially interesting the announcement that on Monday and Wednesday evenings, and Saturday afternoon next he will present at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, an admirable dramatization of "Martin Chuzzlewit." The comedy borrows from the novel the episodes in which Tom figures most prominently, and the dramatist has made from them a very symmetrical work. On Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon Mr. Willard will present "The Rogue's Comedy," one of the cleverest of Henry Arthur Jones' works. It is a satirical play, and has for its theme the career of a swindler, who begins as a fashionable "clairvoyant," develops into a promoter of big financial enterprises, but abandons the fertile field to shield his unacknowledged son, who, not knowing of the relationship, is most active in hunting down his father. Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings will be devoted to "The Middleman," another play by Henry Arthur Jones, which treats of the contest between capital and labor, and shows how a poor old potter, deprived of the fruits of an immensely valuable invention by his wealthy employer and bitterly wronged by the rich man's son, devotes his hitherto dreamy life to revenge, and eventually, by the aid of another invention, becomes the master of the man who strove to crush him. The fourth and final week of Mr. Willard's very successful engagement at the Tremont will be given up to an elaborate production of "All for Her," a powerful drama by Palgrave Simpson and Herman Merivale, in which he will for the first time undertake the role of Hugh Trevor.

MUSKET AND SWORD.

ON THE CAMP, MARCH AND FIGHT LINE IN THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Letter from Gen. W. A. Bancroft, Brig. Gen. Vols. Spanish American War, Maj. Gen. Mass. Vol. Militia. Boston Mass., April 16, 1901.

Col. Edwin C. Bennett, 35 Putnam Street Somerville, Mass. My Dear Sir: Acknowledging your favor of today and thanking you for calling my attention to the reminiscences in your "Musket and Sword," concerning Captains J. H. Baxter and R. T. Bonner and Lieut. Gaffney of the Cambridge Company of first Volunteers, I wish to say further I have been very much impressed by the book itself. The plain unvarnished tale is extremely effective. Such a story is of great value as a sidelight and it appeals to one who has served no matter how briefly, as a formal narration of events would not. I much commend your book to all who would gain a conception of what active service means, and I much marvel at your own experience. You are most happy in that you have been able to tell the story yourself, than whom no one could be better qualified, I am sure, to tell such a story.

Respectfully yours, Wm. A. Bancroft. Published by Coburn Publishing Co. Cloth 12 mo. $1.00.

For West Point

Congressman Powers has arranged for the examination of applicants for the cadetship for West Point from the old 11th congressional district to take place in Boston on Nov. 21 and 22 at the English High school building on Montgomery street. The medical examination will take place at 2 p. m. on Nov. 21 and the mental examination will begin at 9 a. m. on Nov. 22.

Col. H. N. Fisher, Harvard '57 of Brookline, G. E. H. Benyon of Watertown, Dr. Otis H. Mario m of Allston, Dr. E. R. Utley of Newton and Dr. W. G. Adams of Hyde Park have been invited to serve as examiners.

Some 25 applications are already on hand and the number will be probably increased. Applicants must be over 17 years of age and under 22, weigh at least 110 pounds and unmarried. The physical examination will be the same as that at West Point. In selecting a candidate and two alternates Mr. Powers will consider not only the physical and mental standing, but the character and aptitude of the applicants for military service and the trade of a soldier.

Police Paragraphs.

A clever fakir, who during the past two weeks has been operating in Newton was Thursday brought to the attention of the police by several of his victims. The man, who is about 25 years old and well dressed, has been giving the homes of several of the West Newton hill citizens and residents of other portions of the city his attention to his financial betterment. His mode of operation has been to fall, seemingly in a fit, on the sidewalk directly in front of a house, where he had by previous investigation assured himself that none of its male inmates were at home. The result was that those inside, seeing his condition, would run to his aid and carry him into the house. To add to the general effect, while the fakir was rolling about the sidewalk, in several instances he succeeded in daubing himself up with some liquid, having the appearance of blood, thus making such a spectacle of himself as to touch the hardest heart. After being cared for in the house a few minutes, the man would gradually "regain consciousness," and having secured a meal or liquid refreshment, would assume his normal condition. Finding himself able to talk, he would then relate that he was a Harvard student who was working his way through college, and, owing to the cost of his education, was unable to buy proper nourishment; thus his fits. In response to questions as to where he was going when overcome, he would reply that he was on his way to his home in Springfield, Portland, Fall River or any place that suggested itself to him. To make a long story short, he would finally represent that he was entirely without funds, would strike his pitying friends for money enough to buy himself a ticket to his home, and in most cases would depart with from $1 to $5 in his pocket. In other houses where the inmates were not inclined to give him any money, the fellow has behaved in such a threatening manner that they finally gave him some, in order to get him out of the house. The man is described as 5 feet 8 inches tall, with small black mustache, small hands and feet, wears a black overcoat, grey trousers and a black soft hat. The police throughout the city have been notified to arrest him on sight.

Henry J. Stimmets of Lexington, the motorman who was in charge of the car which ran over and killed 2-year-old Henry C. O'Brien, on Adams street, the morning of Oct. 9, was given a hearing Friday morning before Judge Kennedy in the municipal court. Stimmets was arraigned some time ago on a charge of manslaughter and pleaded not guilty, his case being continued until Friday. Both sides were represented by counsel. Mrs. Hannah O'Brien, the mother of the child, testified to seeing the child killed, and to being knocked down in an endeavor to save it from death. The car was running at a high rate of speed, and she alleged that there was nothing to obstruct the motorman's view. Mrs. Higgins, a neighbor, of Mrs. O'Brien, testified to seeing the child on the track. They shouted to the motorman, but alleged that he took no notice of her. The defence put on several witnesses, passengers on the car, testifying that there was no negligence on the part of the defendant, that the car was running at a moderate rate of speed and that the defendant used every means to bring the car to a stop. After hearing the arguments, Judge Kennedy discharged Stimmets.

Harry L. Ryan of Boston, was run over and instantly killed early Tuesday morning by a freight train near Boylston street, crossing of the Boston & Albany railroad at Newton Highlands. Ryan, who was employed as a brakeman on the railroad, was engaged in coupling cars about 200 feet east of the crossing. It is thought that he lost his footing and fell beneath the wheels. The remains were taken to the hospital morgue by the police and viewed by Medical Examiner Meade. Ryan was married and had been in the employ of the railroad but a short time. The train which killed him was in charge of Conductor Thomas Hogan and Engineer J. F. Hasty.

CITY POLITICS.

The city is indeed to be congratulated upon the continued high standard of its candidates for municipal offices indicated by the lists filed for the Republican caucuses.

Mayor Weeks, whose service as chief executive has been so highly satisfactory will be unanimously nominated and we trust will be also unanimously elected.

The number and character of the new men whose names are proposed for aldermen is exceedingly gratifying and Messrs. Day, Dennison, Ellis, Hunt and Johnson will add materially to the strength and value of the new board.

But few contests are in sight for the Republican nominations, that for aldermen at large from Ward 1 and for school committee from Ward 5 being the most important.

In Ward 1, Alderman Weldon, Alderman Barber and ex-Alderman Forknall are candidates. While Alderman Weldon now holds the office, his physical condition is such that he has been absent from City Hall during the last three months. Alderman Barber, whose work as a first year man has been excellent, is by far the best man for the position and he should be given the larger opportunity which always comes with experience in city affairs. We regard the candidacy of Mr. Forknall simply as a protest against that of Alderman Weldon.

In Ward 5, Mr. Luitwieler, the present member of the school committee, seeks a renomination. Mr.
Luitwieler has been a hard working conscientious member of the school board, but has unfortunately thorowly antagonized the public sentiment of his ward and other portions of the city. An excellent candidate has been pitted against him in the person of Mr. Herbert E. Wells, and a strong effort is being made in the interest of the latter.

In Ward 4, Alderman Brown is being opposed by Mr. George W. Mc-Near. Alderman Brown's service in the board clearly entitles him to the renomination, which we believe the caucus will grant.

Last week we inadvertently referred to the Newton Historical Society as being reorganized. This society is an entirely new corporation and we believe that it is the first association of that nature in the city.

Among Women.

will meet Nov. 18th with Mrs. Philip

G., was entertained by Mrs. Lucia G. Pratt and Mrs. A. Stuart Pratt at the former's home in West Newton
Monday afternoon. Miss Mary H.
Greene a former state regent of Rhode Island gave an unusually interesting paper on "Two Rhode Island Heroes of the Revolution," sketching in a graphic way the lives and achievements of Nathiel Greene and Christopher Green. An informal reception followed the exercise of the afternoon. Mr. Elery Peabody and Mrs. Henry Whitmore presided at the tables.

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be on Wednesday, Nov. 19th, at 10 a. m., at the Hunnewell Club, Subject, "Ancient Trade

gree team of the Waltham Lodge.
Dancing followed until 2.

Rebekah Lodge was observed in Odd Fellows hall, West Newton, last Tues-

Mrs. C. Peter Clark on Pleasant street.

Baptist church, Newton Centre. A chafing dish supper was served and Mr. Moritz Hauptmann Emery rendered piano selections.

preserves, jellies, cake and candy church on Saturday afternoon, Nov.

BUSINESS MAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

William H. Graham, 40 years old,
a well known resident of this city,
committed suicide by shooting himself through the head early Thursday morning at the office of the Brackett Market company on Hall street.

Mr. Graham had been associated with the market company for about 20 years and recently purchased a controlling interest in the business.
It is believed that financial embarrassment, coupled with ill health, were the causes which lead him to take his life.

He left his home on Carleton street
shortly after 6.30 in the morning and purchased a revolver at the hardware store of C. H. Campbell. He told the clerk who waited upon him that he intended to shoot a dog which had been annoying his little girl.

It is presumed that Mr. Graham then went directly to the office and locked himself in. A few moments later his son, Wm. Graham, Jr., left home and went to the office to see his father. He found the front door locked, and after waiting a moment went to the house of George Thomas, Pearl street, the manager of the company, and obtained the keys to the store.

The son returned to the store, but was unable to find his father until he passed the office, where he was horrified to see him lying on the floor in a pool of blood.

Running out to the street he called to Patrolman Richard Conroy, who was standing near and both went to the office. A hasty examination showed that Mr. Graham was beyond human aid. He was lying on his back with a 32-caliber revolver clinched in his right hand. A bullet hole just below the right temple revealed how he had killed himself. Only one chamber of the revolver was empty.

The body was taken to a local under-taker's rooms and the family notified. Mrs. Graham was completely prostrated by the news.

In conversation with one of the employees Wednesday evening Mr.
Graham said that he intended to shoot himself but the remark was made in such a manner that it was regarded as a jest.

His home was at 38 Carleton street. His wife and two children survive him.

Political Notes.

Democratic caucuses will be held in the various wards next Monday evening for the purpose of nominating candidates for mayor and aldermen.

City Hall Notes.

The mortality statistics for October, issued by the board of health, show the number of deaths for the month to be 35, a rate of 11.55 per 1000 of population. There are 12 cases of contagious diseases on hand, 4 of diphtheria, 6 of scarlet fever and 2 of typhoid fever. No cases of small pox have been reported.

The removal of ashes which has been carried on for several months by the bondmen of Lyman B. Morrell, the former contractor, will be done
by T. Stuart Sons, Corporation, after Dec. 1st.

Newton Club.

At the Saturday night whist
P. W. Blake and A. A. Highlands won first place with a score of 64.
The other scores were E. K. Sherman and George A. Page 59, Geo. W.
Jewett and B. F. Shattuck 58 and M.
O. Rice and W. F. Lunt 58.

Duplicate whist Monday evening resulted as follows:
F. M. Copeland and A. D. W. Sampson
plus 6
W. F. Lunt and M. O. Rice plus 4
J. T. Slade and E. K. Sherman
plus 2 1/2
William Hollings and G. W. Jewett
plus 2 1/2

The entertainment committee of the club have set a high standard for the coming season if the concert last Wednesday evening is any criterion.
The Boston Festival Orchestra are too well known in Newton to need any other mention than the fact that they are on the program, but when to the excellence of their performance is added the playing of the eminent Scottish pianist, Mr. Frederick Lam-mond, a musical event is provided which would be hard to equal, and cannot be excelled.

It is safe to say that this opinion was held by every one of the 400 or more in the audience on Wednesday night. Mr. Lamond was of course the star attraction and his playing was thoroughly enjoyed. His delicate touch, exquisite shading and perfect command of the piano were completely in evidence and he was given repeated curtain calls, to which he finally responded on the last number with an Etude in D flat major by Liszt. The beautiful "Lover's Dream" by Liszt and the Schubert Tausig march were evidently the favorites on the program and aroused a storm of enthusiasm.

The work of the orchestra was also appreciated and encors were given consisting of Pucciniello, by Herbert and March from Scenes Petresque by Massenet.

The program was as follows:

Overture, "The Magic Flute," Mozart
Minuet, Bolzoni
Piano Solos, a Liebestraum, Liszt.
b The Erl King, Liszt.
Schubert-Liszt
Mr. Lamond.
Ries
Gondoliera, Chaminade
Piano Solos, a Nocturne C Minor Chopin
b Marche Militaire, Liszt.
Schubert-Tausig
Mr. Lamond.
A Night in Lisbon, Saint-Saens Piano Solos, a Barcarolle, Rubenstein
b Tarantelle, from Vene-
zia a Napoli, Liszt
Mr. Lamond.
Overture, "Stradella," Flotow

Hunnewell Club.

The annual meeting last Monday was largely and enthusiastically attended. The treasurer's report showed the financial condition of the club to be better than ever before and the remarks of the retiring president, Isaac T. Burr and of President
Chas. W. Hall indicated a healthy condition of the club. The following officers were elected:

President, Charles W. Hall; vice-president, F. E. Stanley; treasurer, Amasa W. B. Huff; secretary, George

TO
THE WOMEN.

Some women are just a trifle timid
about going to a bank to transact business.
And why? Simply because they are not familiar with the rules of banking. This shouldn't be so, and, indeed, this isn't so
with those who come to this bank, for
clear and so plain, that dealing with a bank soon becomes to them an easy
habit.

We appreciate the patronage of women.
Their business with us is already large and
steadily increasing. If you are not now a patron, then please consider this an invitation to become one.

THE HABIT OF LYING.

Ways in Which Prevention May Be Developed.

How does one become a liar—that is to say, how does the child discover a lie and habitually make use of it?

We can admit that at the beginning there is absolute sincerity. The child through all its first years neither lies nor dissimulates. Its sentiments, its desires, translate themselves into words and into acts. Its body is the constant and perfect expression of its inmost being. Such is the starting point—sincerity, absolute transparency.

There is a multitude of little lies tolerated which we treat as pardonable. We tell the domestic to say we are not at home when we are; we compliment people to their faces and criticize them when they are gone; we say we are happy to see some one and directly after speak of having been annoyed. No more is necessary. The example has been given.

We lie to the child himself. We are pressed by his many embarrassing questions and in order to free ourselves from the embarrassment reply with what is frequently a falsehood. Some fine day he discovers the truth, and the evil is done. The gravest case is when the child is taken as an accomplice in a lie or when his mother tells him, "Above all, do not tell this to your papa." This is the rule of all morality.

The third stage is the first encounter of the child with society, the first shock with social life. The child who tells all he knows, sees and hears, all that he would better have left unsaid, is called the "enfant terrible." His parents do not tell him to lie, but they tell him it is not necessary to tell all he thinks. This is extremely serious, as it teaches the child that he cannot show himself as he is. This is the revelation of the lie obligatory. Above all, among his comrades he quickly learns to dissimulate, because if he is naïve—expresses all his joys, pains, desires—they make sport of him; nay, worse, they abuse his confidence; the hopes, projects which he has confided to them he some day sees used against him.

Thus the impossibility of living without lying is revealed to him. Society excuses certain forms of lying which are inspired by a feeling of politeness, modesty, shame.

The child becomes a liar because all the world about him lies. The distinction between the liar and the man of sincerity is only relative. There are in reality only two categories—those who content themselves with the lies exacted by social life and those who have habituated themselves to lying more than society wishes, to lie because of some personal interest.

An important cause in the development of lying in children is the employment of excessive and ill advised punishments. The child who becomes a liar is the one who lives in perpetual terror of reproaches, humiliation or strokes. The lie for him is a supreme resource.—Chicago Tribune.

His Solemn Oath.

A popular comedian tells a story of a waiter at a London restaurant who was sadly given to drink. A party of young men determined to reform him, and one day they read to him an imaginary paragraph from a paper relating a terrible accident in which an inebriate in blowing out a candle was killed by the flame igniting the alcoholic fumes of his breath. James picked up his ears at this and requested that the paragraph might be read to him again, which was done, to the evident terror of the poor man, who immediately went in search of a Bible.

Returning with this, he expressed a desire to take a solemn oath upon it, beseeching the fact that he had been a sorry tippler and was bringing himself to ruin and then swore that never again so long as he lived would he attempt to blow out a candle.

But Not With the Line.

He had fished up the stream and down the stream and used flies, paste, worms and every other form of bait that the ingenuity of man could devise, but without result, and as he wended his way homeward at the close of the day his temper was high and his fish basket empty. Still, there was no occasion to publish the latter fact to the whole world, so when he met a friend by the way the following dialogue ensued:

"Been fishing?"
"Yes."
"Had a good day's sport?"
"Yes."
"What did you catch?"
"The 6.30."—Answers.

Peach stones will make a quick, hot fire and one that will last. One and a half or two buckets of peach stones will last as long as a bucket of coal. One has to be careful not to fill the stove too full or there will likely be an explosion similar to a gasoline explosion. The proper way to keep the fire going is to put in a shovelful at a time.

"Peach stones thrown into a damp cellar," said one who has used them, "are said to have a peculiar effect on a person. After the stones are in a cellar for a time gases arise, and the fumes will go to one's head and give the same effect as if the distilled product of the peach had been imbibed."—Baltimore Sun.

An Appeal for Justice

To the Editor:

In your issue of the 14th instant you gave prominent notice of the receipt of a pamphlet devoted to an adverse criticism of Christian Science and its adherents, by a minister of another denomination, the Ledger thus becoming an instrument in the hands of one church to criticize and condemn another. In this I feel that it has, without the least intention, done those whom I represent a deep injustice.

It is well known, of course, that the several denominations differ from each other upon essential doctrinal points, but I do not believe you would, upon serious thought, think it right to allow your paper to become the medium through which the Presbyterians might criticize the Baptists, the Methodists the Episcopalians, or vice versa. Wherefore, then, should not this same rule apply to Christian Science?

The Christian Science church has no quarrel with those who differ from it, it does not meddle with the affairs of others, and is innocent of any offence worthy of such condemnation as is contained in the pamphlet to which you have given so prominent a notice. So long as the Christian Science church attends to its own business and lets the business of others alone, no one can possibly have any just ground for dispute with it.

Because our method of preaching and teaching may differ from that of the other denominations, in that we follow our teaching with practical demonstrations, thereby escaping the rebuke, "Faith without works is dead," does this bestow upon those who disagree with us authority to judge and condemn? We differ from some of the orthodox teachings because we understand the Bible differently, but we do not condemn what we believe to be the sincere efforts of those who hold opinions contrary to our own, nor criticize those who hold such opinions.

Brookline-Newton Game a Tie.

One of the best games yet played in the Preparatory League championship was that played Friday between Brookline High and Newton High, on the Cedar street grounds at Newton Centre, in which each team made a touchdown and goal almost at the beginning of the game, and thereafter was unable to cross the line. On the kick-off Brookline rushed the ball down the field, and Lincoln went through left tackle for a touchdown. After that Newton played a splendid line-plunging game and within a short time of Brookline's score was able to cross its opponent's line, tying the score. For the remainder of the first half and all through the second half the play was sawed up and down the field, neither side being able to make any appreciable gain. Shine of Brookline made an attempt for a goal from the field, from the forty-yard line, but it failed to cross the bar.

THE BEST DAY OF ALL.

Two Reasons Why Sunday Always Appeals to the Children.

On weekday mornings father had gone to work when you came downstairs, but on Sunday mornings when you awoke a trifle earlier, if anything—"Father!"

Silence.

"Father!" a little louder.

Then a sleepy "Yes."

"We want to get up."

"It isn't time yet. You children go to sleep."

You waited. Then—"Father, is it time yet?"

"No. You children lie still."

So you and Lizbeth, wide awake, whispered together, and then, to while away the time while father slept, you played Indian, which required two little yells from you to begin with (when the Indian you arrived in your war-paint) and two big yells from Lizbeth to end with (when the Paleface she was being scalped).

Then father said it was "no use," and mother took a hand. You were quiet after that, but it was yawning lying there with the sun so high. You listened. Not a sound came from father and mother's room. You rose cautiously, you and Lizbeth, in your little bare feet. You stole softly across the floor. The door was a crack open, so you peeped in, your face even with the knob and Lizbeth's just below. And then at one and the same instant you both said "Boo!" and grinned, and the harder you grinned the harder father tried not to laugh, which was a sign that you could scramble into bed with him, you on one side and Lizbeth on the other, cuddling down close while mother went to see about breakfast.

It was very strange, but while it had been so hard to drowse in your own bed the moment you were in father's you did not want to get up at all. Indeed, it was father who wanted to get up first, and it was you who cried that it was not time.

Weekdays were always best for most things, but for two reasons Sunday was the best day of all. One reason was Sunday dinner. The other was father.—Harper's Magazine.

JAPANESE REGALIA.

Royal Emblems Without Which the Emperor Could Not Rule.

The Japanese royal emblems consist of a copper mirror, symbolic of knowledge; a steel sword, symbolizing courage, and agate jewels, representing mercy. The story of their origin was told thus by a Japanese official.

The sun goddess became angry with the earth and withdrew into a cave, plunging everything into darkness. The other deities could not induce her to come out, so began to make a noise as of great rejoicing, which aroused the curiosity of the late goddess. She finally came to the mouth of the cave to learn the cause of the uproar and was told that they had found a more beautiful goddess than herself. The sun goddess came out then, demanding to see her rival, and the crafty deities held the mirror before her, which drove all her selfishness away.

The sword was taken by Susanoo, the brother of the sun goddess, from the tail of an eight headed serpent that had been annually devouring a beautiful girl. Susanoo placed eight great tubs of wine in his way and when he was sleeping killed him and took the sword as a trophy.

The sword is kept in an apartment near the imperial bedchamber and called the Room of the Sword. The jewels have also a room to themselves, and the mirror is in charge of a priestess. The regalia have the highest significance in the eyes of the people, and it is held that no emperor can possibly rule without the three virtues which they represent. He must, moreover, hold the actual tokens, and in the imperial code it is enjoined that on the death of the sovereign his heir must take possession of them.

The "Basin" of an Apple.

One end of the apple bears the name of "basin" and contains the remnants of the blossom—sometimes called the eye of the fruit. This part of the apple is deep in some varieties and shallow and open in others. This is the weakest point in the whole apple as concerns the question of the keeping quality of the fruit. If the basin is shallow and the canal to the core firmly closed, there is much less likelihood of the fruit decaying than when it is deep, and the evident opening connects the center of the fruit with the surface.

As It Really Was.

"Lay on, Macduff!" cried Macbeth. Macduff was motionless.

"What'll be the matter now?" said Macbeth. "Dinna ye ken that's the cue?"

"I was na sure," said Macduff, "whether ye were just reht in yer grammar. I thought ye meant 'lie on' an' that I wadna stand, but it's all reht now."

And the conflict began.—Toledo Dec.

Quick Promotion.

"I fear your brother is an assistant bookkeeper."

"Yes, indeed. And, do you know, he proved himself so clever that they've passed him over the first and second assistantships and made him third assistant right off."—New York World.

Mrs. Barnes, who is well along in years, was married to Dr. Charles H. Barnes who is about 30 years old, about two years ago, and meanwhile he had gone to Los Angeles, Cal., to live, and this suit has been brought to protect her in her property, consisting of real estate and mortgages worth about $30,000, it being sought to declare void a power of attorney and a deed of certain real estate made by her to her husband. Plaintiff's counsel stated that Mrs. Barnes had secretly left the state for Providence recently, and he believed that there was a prearranged plan to keep her out of the state. She is said to be under a conservatorship created here to preserve her property. It appeared from an affidavit made by W. M. Noble, counsel for the plaintiff, that he learned that William H. Barnes intended to board a train at Newton Highlands on Nov. 3, whereupon he hastened to the train and had talk with the latter, asking him if any of his client's property was in the three trunks that made up Barnes' baggage. Mr. Barnes told him that he had none of her property. He was told by Mr. Noble that it was the intention to ask for an injunction to restrain the removal of any of her property, and that if he did so he would be in contempt of court. The injunction was asked for by Mr. Noble and granted.

PASSED AWAY.

Death of Mr. C. Bowditch Coffin.

Remarks of Rev. Dr. Hornbroke at The Funeral.

Calvin Bowditch Coffin, a life long resident of Newton, died at his home on Bellevue street, Mt. Ida, after a long illness, last Friday morning. He was the son of Langdon Coffin and Catherine H. (Bailey), and was born at Newton Centre, February 27, 1846. After receiving his education in the Newton schools he entered the boot and shoe business in Boston and in 1869 was employed as paymaster of the Alabama and Chattanooga R. R. Co. during the construction of that road. Returning to Boston in 1871 he became bookkeeper for Potter, White and Bayley and in 1892 entered the employ of the City of Newton as paymaster. In 1896 he was appointed Deputy Collector of Taxes and held that office until stricken down in January of this year.

Mr. Coffin was genial in disposition and was thoroughly liked by all with whom he came in contact. He was a member of the Newton Club, the Royal Arcanum, an ex-president of the Clavin Guard Veteran Association, an associate member of Chas. Ward post, a former trustee of the Free Library, succeeding the late D. P. Jewett, an usher and a constant attendant of the Channing church, and a member of the Unitarian Club. He was also a 32d degree Mason and a member of the Royal Arch Chapter and of Gethsemane Commandery.

Mr. Coffin was also prominent in the politics of the city and had been chairman of the Republican City committee, a member of the State Central Committee, and a member of the Common Council in 1878 and 1879.

He was passionately fond of his native city and was the donor of the drinking fountain in corner of Washington street and Lewis terrace and contributed the marble busts of Sumner and Andrew to the Public Library.

It is a remarkable fact that this is the first death in the children of Langdon Coffin for over 51 years, and Mr. Coffin is survived by five brothers and three sisters, Howard B., J. Coolidge, Lewis E. Coffin of Newton, Arthur G. Coffin of New York, and William Coffin of California, and Miss Louise, Miss Mary Langdon Coffin and Emma C., the wife of Mr. Fred W. Stone.

CALVIN BOWDITCH COFFIN.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the Channing church and were attended by a large and thoroughly representative gathering.

The flowers were numerous and beautiful and included tributes from the various societies and organizations with which Mr. Coffin had been associated.

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson conducted the service, reading the scriptures and offering prayer, while Rev. Dr. Hornbroke made the address.

The Mendelssohn quartet sang and rendered the familiar and beautiful hymns of "Gathering Home," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Passing Out of the Shadow," in a very effective manner.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Howard B., J. Coolidge, Arthur G. and Lewis E. Coffin, representing the family, Mr. James B. Fuller representing the Channing church, Mr. Mitchell Wing representing the Masons, Mr. Charles D. Cabot representing the Royal Arcanum and Col. I. F. Kingsbury representing the City.

Messrs. Bruce R. Ware, A. W. B. Huff, F. A. Wetherbee and Robert D. Holt were the ushers.

The casket was not opened, and the burial in the family lot at Newton cemetery was private.

Dr. Hornbroke's address was as follows:

Our friend and brother whose loss we deplore and whose memory we are here to honor, is known to us all. In this place he was born and in this place he passed away. His was a familiar figure on our streets. We were constantly meeting him in all our ways. He was educated in our schools; he was a faithful member of this church. All that I can say about him you know already. His life was an open book, and all who live in this place know the reading it contained.

I think that our friend was fortunate in his opportunities. His father was a man of principle, and his mother a woman of piety. He was surrounded by brothers and sisters who aided in this development as only a family of brothers and sisters can. He was connected by the ties of relationship and acquaintance with the best people—and I use the word in the highest sense—he was connected with the best people of this Commonwealth. He had the training of our schools so far as intellect was concerned, and in this church he was nurtured in morals and religion. Surely few have had an ampler opportunity than he, and to his praise it can be said today that he responded to the appeal of his opportunities. Some men have opportunities and abuse them, or never use them. I think of our friend we may safely say that he used well the opportunities of his life.

He was a faithful and affectionate son. I never knew one who followed more tenderly the declining years of his mother than our friend. His every thought was for her. He carried her on his heart into the place of his business; he was never too busy to remember her amid the press of many cares. She was consoled on her last day by his loving tenderness, and one of the last times that he went from his home in his weakness and feebleness his thought turned to the grave of the mother that he had served and loved so well.

That he was a true-hearted brother those who hear me today well know. And he was ever responsive to the opportunity of his education. Trained as he was in our schools, his learning did not cease with his departure from them, but through all the years of his life he was an earnest and a faithful reader. His ample library, in which he loved to dwell, was filled with the books containing the information which best fits a man for an intelligent idea of his responsibilities and privileges as an American citizen. Quietly and studiously through the years he endeavored to fit himself with the thought and with the knowledge that makes one an intelligent and therefore influential citizen of this great republic. He had formed by study and reading his ideas of what a citizen should be, and he did not allow them, as so many do, to remain mere ideas, mere notions of the brain. He filled these ideas with his life; he made them living things. He did not shrink from the duty of the citizen, as so many do. He did not have that notion which I am afraid so many have who are too nice for this dirty world, that the work of government and the work of the management of public affairs is something unworthy their hands. He took his part as a man in the affairs of this city. He had his ideas of what this nation should do, and those ideas he maintained with enthusiasm and yet never with bitterness. He was an intelligent, earnest, active-minded citizen, who did his duty according to the light that he had striven to gain.

And then he was interested in the life of his country. He showed that interest by becoming a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and in numerous other ways that I cannot mention now. He was not only a student and a loyal citizen, but he was a faithful member and worker in this church. As I think of it now, his life a little more than covers its entire history. He, one might say, never knew any other church than this. And he loved it, and he loved its services. No matter how humble a task might be, he was ready to perform it. Whatever he could do in making its service more beautiful or in welcoming others into its portals he was ever ready to do. He was one who always upheld his church and who encouraged his minister with words of cheer. And wherever he went, as he had received from others so much of kindness, so he gave kindness. He had received from this community education, religious and moral nurture and kindly helpfulness, and so as he had freely received he freely gave. What more can be said of a man when his days are over than that he faithfully responded in every way to the opportunities that came to him as calls of God?

It used to be the common notion, and it is perhaps too common yet, that we are only to think in considering the history of a nation or of a community of the few striking figures in it, the few men who have sat on thrones or who have initiated great policies, written the great books, or made the great inventions. We often think only of these when we think of the history of a people and of what constitutes its life. But the life of a nation, we have since learned, is not made by the few men who sit in conspicuous places and who do the striking deeds which historians love to commemorate. We have learned that "all service ranks the same with God," that, "there is no last nor first," we have learned the lesson that the life of a nation or a community is constituted by the thousands of men and women who compose it, who are doing their duty as it appeals to them, day by day and hour by hour. And so we can think of our friend as one of that great army of faithful souls who in quiet and unnoted ways have so lived and so acted that the world is better for their presence. We hardly note the falling of the raindrop, but we know that it has fallen because the earth is greener. We hardly note the lives of the thousands of men and women throughout our land, but we know that the world is better because of what they are, because of what they have done.

As one grows older the world seems to be a scene of perpetual change. The ones we have loved so long have passed beyond; the faces that gave us welcome, so many of them, are silent in death. The hands that we clasped no longer return our pressure; the eyes that gave us welcome are closed, and sometimes it seems as if we were in a world where nothing abides and where one thing and one person passes away nothing remains. It is well for us when we are depressed by such thoughts and by such experiences to remember that although these outward forms are ever passing away, yet the lives that we have known and the hearts that we have cherished still exert their influence upon us, that the work they have done within us by what they are is imperishable and abides forever. The loved one passes away, but the loving heart that has been created by what they are, that is eternal, even as God is.

And it is well with those who have gone; it is well with the faithful soul that has been called beyond our sight. Our hearts assure us that this is one universe, ruled from center to circumference by one law of wisdom and love. We can confidently believe that as our friend was faithful here, so he will be faithful wherever God has called him; that as he was ready to help and to give his counsel and loving kindness here, so he will make whatever place he enters brighter, better, by the kindness of his glance and by the helpfulness that his heart was ready to give. Wherever he is we know that it is well with him. The dutiful soul knows no decay—it is incorruptible as the will of God. And we are sure that in a universe that is ruled by a righteous God the righteous and faithful soul will ever meet the reward that is found in the doing of the present duty and the giving of the loyal and the loving service.

Not once or twice in this our old-world story The path of duty was the way to glory He that ever following her commands, Or with toil of heart and knees and hands Thro the long gorge to the far light has won His path upward and prevailed, Shall find the tottering crags of duty sealed Are close upon the shining table-lands To which our God Himself is moon and sun.

G. A. R. Camp Fire

The seating capacity of Temple hall, Newtonville, was taxed to its full extent last Monday evening, the occasion being a camp fire held under the auspices of Charles Ward Post 62, G. A. R. The decorations were very effective and consisted of flags and shields on the walls and draped flags and stacked guns on the stage. Commander Colon S. Ober was seated on the platform and with him were Congressman Samuel L. Powers, Mayor John W. Weeks, ex-Mayor Edward L. Pickard, Postmaster Hibbard of Boston, Messrs. E. B. Haskell and A. B. Fifield and Rev. C. M. Southgate. The guests present besides the members of the post and their friends were the honorary members, the ladies of the ward committees and those who assisted at the fair, representatives from the League Spanish War Veterans, Daughters of Veterans, Com-

The Problem of a Tired Mother.

The funny papers have told, time and again, how it makes a man feel to be shut up alone with the children even for a few hours.

It's no wonder that nerve troubles attack the mother for she has the children all the time. How can she help being nervous, especially while the little ones are making such constant drafts on her energy? No woman can endure the strain of her housework and two or three little ones unless her digestive powers are of an unusual order. She can't manufacture force enough to stand the strain.

We can suggest one thing that will surely help her and it isn't a drug poison either. It is Vinol, made by a remarkable new process from that wonderful remedy, cod liver oil, a true tonic.

Money back if you don't find this true.

pany C, and the officers of the Newton High school battalion. The toasts were responded to as follows: "United States of America," Congressman Powers; "The City of Newton," Mayor Weeks; "The Press," Mr. E. B. Haskell; "United States Civil Service," Postmaster Hibbard of Boston; "Our Associate Members," ex-Mayor Pickard; "The Clergy," Rev. C. M. Southgate; "The Public School," Mr. A. B. Fifield, superintendent of the Newton schools. Between the toasts a chorus composed of members of the post under the direction of Past Commander Wetherbee, rendered the old war time songs. A pleasant feature of the evening came at the close when Alderman Charles A. Brown in behalf of his mother, Mrs. Lavinia E. Brown, presented to the post the charter and a flag, Bible, sword, gavel and candle stick belonging to her husband and formerly the property of the Newton branch of the Union League of America, of which he was secretary. The flag hung above the headquarters at Newton Corner during the war and under its folds had many soldiers enlisted. It had also hung at half-mast on the day of the funeral of Presidents Lincoln and McKinley. Commander Ober responded, accepting the gift to be known as the Albert G. Brown collection and the program was completed by the singing of another selection by the chorus and audience.

Who Will Help?

To the Editor: Will you kindly grant me the space in your columns to tell your readers a story of need which will make its own appeal.

There is today, on a farm about fifty miles from here, a little family of three children. Their mother is incurably insane. Their father is a citizen of Newton, until a few months ago living at West Newton, and now living at Newton. About a year ago through the kindness of Miss Drinkwater of the Boston Y. W. C. A. he secured this comfortable home for his children. He has paid five dollars a week for the support of the three but a few weeks ago he was stricken down with acute sciatica; he has been taken to the hospital and the physician says it will be months before he will be able to work again. Last week I received a letter from the lady who has provided the children with such a good home, saying that she was not able longer to assume the support of the children unless the five dollars a week could be secured from friends until the father is able to resume his work. I do not believe the people of Newton want such children as these to spend the winter in a poor-house. I shall be glad to receive and acknowledge any sums that may be sent me for these little ones.

EX-MAYOR, DEAD.

Hon. J. Wesley Kimball Dies Suddenly.

Was Mayor for Five Years and a Familiar Figure in Newton Politics.

The Hon. J. Wesley Kimball, an old resident of Newtonville, and for five years mayor of the city, died suddenly about 9.30 o'clock Sunday evening at his home, 73 Washington park, from heart failure.

Mr. Kimball was about all day apparently enjoying his usual health. During the morning he went out driving, and passed the afternoon about the house. He ate a hearty supper, and two hours later was about to retire, when he suddenly became ill. It was thought he had an attack of indigestion, but as he began to sink rapidly a physician was hurriedly summoned. Mr. Kimball died a few minutes before he arrived.

Mr. Kimball was a native of Grafton and was the son of James M. Kimball of that place. He was educated in the public schools of that town and later at Leicester Academy. He came to Boston when a young man and secured a position in the Exchange Bank, from which he worked up to receiving teller. After leaving the bank he engaged in mercantile business, becoming senior member of the firm of Kimball, Lindsay & Peck. During the last eight or ten years he had been connected with the leather clothing firm of Holmes & Kimball at 146 Lincoln street, Boston.

HON. J. WESLEY KIMBALL.

Mr. Kimball was about 65 years old, and had made Newtonville his home for about 30 years. He took an active interest in his public affairs and in 1877 was elected a member of the common council. After serving three years in this body he was elected to the office of alderman for four consecutive years. As a candidate for mayor on the citizens' ticket, he was elected in 1884, and was successively re-elected serving five terms.

He was the only mayor who has been in office in Newton for over three years. He was a member of the Newton Club, the Central Congregational church and several other local bodies.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, the wife of Mr. Karl Schmidt. Simple but impressive exercises were held at his late home Wednesday at one o'clock, and were attended by members of the city government and business associates. Music was by the Mendelssohn Quartet, which sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God to Thee." After prayer and scripture reading Rev. R. T. Loring of St. John's Episcopal church, Newtonville, pronounced a brief, feeling eulogy. The interment was at Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y., on Thursday.

Police Paragraphs.

Annie G. Lawrence, colored, was arraigned in the municipal court, Saturday morning, charged with the larceny of clothing, the property of Dr. Charles T. Cutting of Newtonville, at whose home she is employed as a domestic. She pleaded guilty and was given three months in the house of correction.

Joseph R. McReady, of 13 Pine street, Waltham, was complained of by his wife for assault and threatening bodily harm. Mrs. McReady, who resides in this city, has recently been granted a decree nisi in a suit for divorce. She alleged that her husband had threatened her, and on Nov. 10 assaulted her while on her way to work. The defendant pleaded not guilty, and was represented by counsel. He was found guilty and put under $300 bonds to keep the peace.

Professor G. P. Jewett, principal of the Mt. Ida school, Newton, has brought suit against the Lasell Seminary and Professor C. C. Bragdon, the largest stock holder and principal of Lasell, for $50,000. Professor Jewett was employed as principal at Lasell last year and the action is brought for the breach of an alleged contract, under which he was employed. Professor Jewett claims that he was employed by Bragdon, acting for the Lasell corporation, on a written agreement covering a period of years. His discharge from the position some time last August after a single year of service, is the alleged breach of contract on which he relies. In addition to his duties as principal at Lasell, Professor Jewett taught political economy, psychology and civil government.

THE PLAYHOUSE.

TREMONT THEATRE, Nov. 24.—"The Sultan of Sulu."

PARK THEATRE, Nov. 24.—"Taken from Life."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, Nov. 24.—"Arizona."

COLUMBIA THEATRE, Nov. 24.—"The Defender."

MUSIC HALL, Nov. 24.—"A Ruined Life."

Boston Grand Opera House—"Arizona," the biggest success of the New York season, has been secured by Manager Magee at the Boston Grand Opera House for next week. Congratulations are certainly in order for "Arizona" as an elevating as well as fascinating play, its story being that of love, honor, and duty. "Arizona" promises to be one of the dramatic events of the season. It has scored heavily in New York and Boston and is generally conceded to be one of the strongest dramas written in the last decade. This is Kirke La Shelle's great production of the play, and the same in every respect as in Boston on previous occasions when it comes to the Boston Grand Opera House next week. The usual matinee will be given Tuesday with a Thanksgiving day matinee, Thursday, Nov. 27th and Saturday.

Columbia Theatre—Less than two weeks remain of the phenomenally successful re-engagement of the merriest of musical farce comedies, "The Defender," at the Columbia Theatre, as the engagement will close Saturday, Nov. 23rd. For the past six weeks this most sumptuously gorgeous production has been entertaining the largest audiences ever drawn to the Columbia Theatre and the unanimous verdict of all who have seen it is that "The Defender" is the most artistic and enjoyable production yet made at the Columbia Theatre, "which is the recognized home of musical comedy and celebrated for the gorgeousness and artistic elegance of its productions." Matinees Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2 o'clock. The evening performance begins at 7.45 p. m. sharp.

Boston Music Hall—The Great Lafayette, that wonderful creative genius who has been drawing such tremendously large audiences to the Boston Music Hall this week, will appear at the Sunday evening vaudeville concert when he will present an entire change of program. Miss Elsie Crescy, who has attained considerable fame as a young leading woman, plays the heroine "Arlita," a Queen of the Gypsies in the big melodramatic production "A Ruined Life," which comes to Music Hall next Monday. She is adapted perfectly to romantic leading parts requiring youth, grace and beauty, and it is little wonder that her fame in so short a time is widespread. In "A Ruined Life" she has many opportunities for the display of beautiful gowns.

Newton Education Association.

Mrs. Widdington gave a clear exposition of the "New Education Bill," now being considered by the English parliament, before an interested audience in the New Church parlors, Newtonville, on Monday evening.

The first object of the bill of 1902 is to abolish everywhere, save in London, all existing authorities for elementary and technical education, and to establish one local authority for the education of the nation.

The defeat of the proposed bill would cause a dissolution of the present government, which favors the reform, while from the opposition, the Liberal party, no relief could be expected.

The speaker declared the bill an honest attempt to solve the present chaotic condition of English education and well worth the trial. Her chief objection to the bill was that under its provisions women would be disqualified from serving directly upon school boards.

Tremont Theatre—Of all the new musical comedies and light operas, and there certainly are a plenty of them, none has attracted more widespread comment than "The Sultan of Sulu," the famous musical satire by George Ade of "Fables in Slang" fame, that will have its first Boston presentation at the Tremont Theatre on Dec. 1st. "The Sultan of Sulu" is a satire on Sultan Ki-ram and his island institutions in the far off Philippines and the assimilation of his majesty by Uncle Sam's expedition of soldiers, marines, Boston school ma'ams, etc., who made a peaceful conquest of Sulu. Mr. Ade has introduced American politicians, commercial travelers and Boston school-teachers to show not what did happen but what might have happened on the island. The company numbers 100 people and Manager Savage is said to have given "The Sultan" a production that rivals "The Prince of Pilsen" for lavish display.

Park Theatre—For the week at the Park Theatre beginning next Monday, Nov. 24th, the attraction will be the popular melodrama, "Taken from Life." It is the work of Henry Pettit, the celebrated author of "A Prodigal Daughter," "The Soudan," and many other successful plays, and contains a number of exciting scenes and several interesting characters. Its most stirring situations represent the expulsion of John Denby and his wife from their home, the kidnapping of Kate Denby's baby, the murder of John Denby, and the escape of a prisoner from Clerkenwell Prison. Several comic characters and situations furnish plenty of amusement wherewith to relieve the more serious portions of the play. In spite of the expense of this production there will be no increase in the prices, which remain at 10, 20 and 30 cents for afternoon performances, and 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents for the evening. Next Tuesday afternoon, at the close of the performance of "Taken From Life," all the ladies and children in the audience are invited to the company, and partake of refreshments. "Taken From Life" will be followed week after next by "Fanchon the Cricket," Maggie Mitchell's great success.

Symphony Hall—It will be welcome news to the musical public of this vicinity to learn that the enthusiastic greeting given the great composer and musician, Mascagni, at Symphony Hall recently, has led to the completion of arrangements by which he will return to Boston and give a series of operatic and miscellaneous concerts in this same grand auditorium, beginning on Tuesday evening the 25th inst. On this date and on the evenings of Wednesday the 26th, Thursday the 27th, Friday the 28th and Sunday the 30th insts., the entire operatic organization brought to this country by Sig. Mascagni, soloists, chorus and orchestra, will appear under this composer's direction in concert program. The concerts to be given as above will each include a complete performance of the "Cavalleria Rusticana." A scale of popular prices has been arranged for these concerts.

"My Own Adolphus."

The members of the parish of Grace church and their friends made up an enthusiastic audience which filled the assembly hall of the Hunnewell Club last Friday evening, the occasion being a party given under the auspices of the Choir Guild. The rendering of the musical comedy, "My Own Adolphus," was of particular interest as it was the work of home talent, Mr. A. O. Clark of the choir, having written the book and lyrics and Mr. H. R. Pratt, the organist, the music, which was tuneful and of the very highest order. Special mention should be made of the "Suppose" duet by Miss Sampson and Mr. Draper; "Our Love Returned," by Miss Davis; "When Laurice Smiled," by Mr. Harrington; the "Advertising," song by Mr. Draper; the topical song, "The Crimson Tykeke," by Mr. Clark, and the "Chicken" quartet, Messrs. Sladen, Clark, Draper and Collins. The scenery was the work of Mr. Harry W. Stoddard and Mr. H. R. Pratt was the accompanist. Dancing followed until midnight; music, Owen's orchestra. The cast of the comedy follows:

Chas. N. Sladen
Chas. H. Draper
Cynthia Keys, Miss Alice Sampson
Jonah Thornside, Harry Hickox
Adolphus Mills, W. O. Harrington
Laurice Pendennis,
Miss Cora E. Davis
G. Whittier Longmellow, Poet,
A. O. Clark
Erasmus Jackson Farnsworth Collins

A Pleasant Surprise.

Owing to ill health Arthur L. Bailey, who has been in the employ of James Bros. of Waltham, for over six years, resigned his position Saturday night and as he was leaving, he was presented with an elegant mahogany morris rocker.

The gift was from his employers and shopmates, with whom he had been so pleasantly associated.

AN INDIAN SUMMER SUNDAY THOUGHT

Twenty minutes past six a. m., was an apparently early hour. Yet it was deceivingly so by "standard time," since, by the real time that all lived by before 1883, it was twenty-four minutes of seven, which, certainly, was nothing for any true lover of morning to boast of for earliness. Especially was this true, when, as astronomy teaches us, actual sunrise was about eleven minutes earlier on Nov. 16th than the almanac, "mean time," 6.51, viz., at 6.40 a. m. of "mean time," which would be 6.24 a. m. by the "standard time," now in use.

A dear old Sabbath hymn in my childhood, and of refined spirituality, said: "This is the day the Lord arose So early from the dead, And shall I then mine eyelids close, And waste my hours in bed?"

To the becomingly thoughtful, it might seem repulsive profaneness to make such a parody of this verse as would express much of present materiality, and I will not attempt it. Better to consider that, compounded as we all are, of vitally united matter and spirit, though in somewhat varying proportions, the problem of life is to find and keep the proper balance between these two mutually opposing elements, neither of which should ever be allowed to overbalance the other.

Nature and grace harmoniously join to help in solving this problem. Thus it came to pass on the exquisite Indian summer morning of the sixteenth, the holy first day of the second half of this month, and of a week containing a happy home anniversary, that there were mutual early greetings, with best wishes for a happy week and remaining half of Nature's resting and restful month of November.

Materiality alone is wholly of the earthy. Spirituality alone struggles, after the poor fashion of ascetics, pagan or morbidly Christian, to ignore the body and this life, and to prematurely anticipate a disembodied future. Both are equally fatal. The former tends to beasthood. The latter sadly misses real sainthood. Both are impracticable in being a vain attempt to put asunder what God has joined together for this life. Then let body and soul, matter and mind, materiality and spirituality dwell together here in peace, according to Divine intention. Only make sure that spirituality shall ever be on top as master, with materiality as only its servant for all good ends requiring right use of material means. Thus our problem is solved, and our Indian summer Sundays soft sunshine and warmth, refreshing motion and rest, and uplifting thought and service, sermon and song make a heavenly height, from which to gain visions that exalt and ennoble the week's duties, dignify and bless daily life, and make it pure cheerful and strong, till the next weekly hill top returns, again to renew and strengthen.

Street Railway Matters

The Newton Street Railway Company has petitioned the Waltham board of aldermen for the right to extend its tracks up Main street from the present terminus to the Weston line, and the petition is now in the hands of the Street Railway Committee, where it is receiving consideration.

The officials of the Newton Street Railway Company, at a hearing given them, stated that if granted the franchise they will construct a boulevard from the junction of Main and Weston street up Main street to the Weston line to connect there with a similar boulevard to be constructed in Weston.

The Newton Street Railway Company intends to extend its tracks through Weston junction to Concord.

Foreign Curios.

The display of Foreign Curios at Mr. Shepherd's Art Rooms, 372 Boylston street, Boston, is one of much interest to collectors and those who have travelled abroad. The first consideration and one which will commend itself to every visitor is the genuine quality which appears in every article. In this day of imitations, reproductions and fakes it requires the skill and best judgment that comes from years of experience in foreign shops to select that which has this quality of genuineness.

The collection contains fine old jewels, rings and other articles of personal adornment. A few laces and embroideries especially fine and rare from Old Florence. A number of Etruscan and Egyptian antiquities that seem to have the remote ages about them, some armor of the 17th century from the Orient. Cashmere shawls, marvels of hand wrought fineness. Dutch scent bottles in curious wrought glass and silver. Miniatures that tell the stories of years long gone by. Rosaries and amulets that have counted the prayers of devout generations. Sketches and drawings by the hands of old masters and some modern oil paintings in cabinet sizes that are choice examples of the Dutch school, etc., etc.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY.

Once in each year the Newton Hospital is brought prominently before the church going people of the city by the Thanksgiving call for contributions to aid its human and charitable work.The response from our good people has hitherto been generous and indicates the high regard which is felt by rich and poor alike for this beneficent institution and public concern for its continued maintenance in our midst.In this connection it is pertinent to appeal to that large class of residents usually well to do, who are but occasional attendants at the various churches, and yet, who would undoubtedly be glad to assist in this noble work.Hospital Sunday should not be confined exclusively to the churches, but should be enlarged to include the general giving by individuals, societies and organizations of all kinds and classes.This year a special appeal has been made to individuals and it is sincerely to be hoped that the response will be sufficiently gratifying to encourage those who have given untiring and invaluable service to this worthy institution.

THE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

The results of the municipal caucuses last night so far as they affect the direct nomination principle are extremely gratifying. The number of ballots cast shows conclusively that the people can be depended upon to come out and vote when the real issues are presented to them directly.Mayor Weeks is handsomely renominated without opposition.Alderman Barber wins the three cornered fight in Ward One by a wide margin, although he will probably be opposed at the polls by the same gentlemen whom he defeated at the caucus. The same is true of Alderman Brown in Ward 4.The interest developed in the school committee fight brought out a tremendous vote in ward Five and Mr.
Wells nearly buried his competitor in an avalanche of votes. Mr. Luit-weiler carried five wards in the city by small margins, only to lose in his own ward.The ward aldermanship in Ward
One has developed the utmost bitterness, charges and counter charges of voting democrats in favor of each candidate being freely made. It is asserted, however, that the democratic leaders in the Ward took a great interest in the result and are much pleased at the success of Mr.
Blue, whom they think can be defeated by the democratic candidate, Mr. Sweeney.We hear that Dr. Gallagher will take out nomination papers on this issue and with the independent candidacy of Mr. John Flood, the politics of this ward ought to be lively enough to satisfy every one.We invite special attention to the article on cleanliness which is printed in this issue. Dr. Chapin, the author, is the Health Officer of Providence, and has a fine reputation for sanitary work. His views are practical and if adopted would be of great benefit in this city.Ex-Mayor J. Wesley Kimball, whose death occurred this week was the most prominent man in municipal politics twenty years ago, and his service of twelve consecutive years at City Hall will probably remain the record for a long time to come.

HON. JOHN W. WEEKS,

Who was nominated (unanimously) for Mayor for a second term by the Republicans at Thursday night's Caucuses.The republicans of Newton turned out in goodly numbers at the city caucuses last night, and nearly a thousand ballots were cast.This was probably occasioned by the aldermanic contest in Wards 1 and 4 and the school fight in Ward 5, Wards 1 and 5 casting an unprecedently large vote.Mayor Weeks is unanimously renominated and the other successful candidates are as follows:Alderman at Large.
Ward 1. D. Fletcher Barber.
Ward 2. Albert P. Carter.
Ward 3. George H. Ellis.
Ward 4. Charles A. Brown.
Ward 5. George H. Mellen.
Ward 6. Edward B. Bowen.
Ward 7. Frank A. Day.School Committee.
Ward 3. Robert S. Gorham.
Ward 4. Wm. A. Knowlton.
Ward 5. Frederick M. Crehore.
Ward 6. Herbert E. Wells.
Ward 7. George C. Travis.Ward Aldermen.
Ward 1. Alexander Blue.
Ward 2. Charles S. Dennison, 98.
Ward 3. Henry H. Hunt, 37.
Ward 4. Frederick Johnson, 137.
Ward 5. Frederick W. Webster, 123.
Ward 6. Alfred S. Norris, 65.
Ward 7. Alonzo R. Weed, 94.
For ward alderman Ward 1, Blue received 138 votes and Dr. Gallagher 107.

The democrats of Newton are to be congratulated in the material advance they have made from last year in the character of their nominee for mayor.
Dr. Eaton is an estimable gentleman, who will carry their standard to defeat with dignity and win the respect of his opponents.While Dr. Eaton is a long step in advance of Mr. Baker, he is still far behind Mayor Weeks in the necessary qualifications to fill the position of chief magistrate and we believe the voters will thoroughly understand the situation on election day.We are sorry to learn that Miss Burt is to accept the nomination for school committee. While the principles of women representatives on the school board is commendable in itself, the pre-eminent fitness and ability of Mr. Travis, who has had previous experience in the position, are such, that he should not be opposed.
The remainder of the democratic ticket is characteristic of the party in Newton.Mr. C. Bowditch, Coffin whose life and death we record this week, was a warm hearted, whole souled associate and friend, whose genial manner and hearty greeting will be greatly missed.The appeal from Rev. Mr. Snell in our news columns should receive a heartily and generous response in this city.

Police Paragraphs.

A mysterious shooting, of which Nicholas Albanese, 34 years old, an Italian laborer, was the victim, occurred late Saturday night in the old Kelley Hotel, now a boarding house, at Boylston and Chestnut streets, Newton Upper Falls. Albanese, who it is thought cannot recover, is at the Newton hospital and his wife, Lillian
A. Albanese, 34 years old, a French-woman, who, the police say, has admitted the shooting, is locked up, charged with an assault with a dangerous weapon.

Unitarian Club.

The regular meeting of the Unitarian Club was held last evening in the West Newton Unitarian church.
After supper had been served the company adjourned to the parlor, where President Fisher called the meeting to order and a vote of thanks was passed for the invitation to hold the meeting of the Club at the West Newton church. 29 new members were elected. President Fisher read a letter of regret from Rev. Mr. Jaynes, who was unable to be present and then introduced Congressman Powers, who gave a talk on "The National House of Representatives." Mr. Powers stated that the House was the only strictly public legislative body in America, elected directly by the people every two years. There is an average of one member to over 200,000 people and the membership of the New 58th Congress will be 386 without one delegate each from Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Hawaii. These four delegates can address the house but have no vote. The committee on rules dominates the house and is composed of the speaker, two Republicans and two Democrats. The arbitrary rules formulated by ex-Speaker Reed are the code. The Speaker appoints the 65 committees, each having a chairman, and has the greatest power to shape legislation next to the President. The house is divided into two parts and each member sits on the side with the party to which he belongs. A legislative body controlled by party is honest,
the leaders determine after a conference what action shall be taken and the matter is settled by party vote in committee conference and then on the floor. The minority party is the critic of the majority party. The speaker said that the character of the men who compose the house is of excellent quality, fairly representing the people and is a great improvement over that of 50 years ago. A man must win his reputation to the floor of the house, past honors did not count, but after securing a position a member holds it. The members deal wisely with the great problems that come before the house and work hard, having sessions six days in the week from 12 to 6 and committee meetings many mornings and evenings. Mr. Powers spoke in an interesting way of the famous Grid-iron and Tantalus Clubs, related many anecdotes of the members and closed by making an earnest plea that the strongest and best educated men be sent to Congress until length of service shall give them influence and a broad knowledge of National affairs. Short addresses were also made by Hon. Albert L.
Harwood and Mr. Winfield S. Slo-PURIFIES GERM LADEN AIR, caused by offensive odors arising from sinks, drain-pipes, closets, cess-pools, cellars, etc. Every pail of cleaning water should contain Sulpho-Naphthol. No soap necessary. The scientific way of maintaining clean, healthy homes.

THE WOMEN.Some women are just a trifle timid
about going to a bank to transact business.
And why? Simply because they are not familiar with the rules of banking. This shouldn't be so, and, indeed, this isn't so
with those who come to this bank, for
clear and so plain, that dealing with a
bank soon becomes to them an easy
habit.We appreciate the patronage of women.
Their business with us is already large and
steadily increasing. If you are not now a patron, then please consider this an invitation to become one.THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

A QUEER EXPERIENCE.

It Made One Man a Believer in the Supernatural.

"I want to tell you a very queer experience I had," said the colonel. "It borders so much on the superstitious it throws me somewhat in doubt as to whether I believe in the supernatural. You all know what a fondness I have for driving, and the more spirited the horses are the better I feel to put them on their mettle. Well, a few summers ago I bought a pair of high strung, strongly built bay horses and began to drive them. One Sunday morning I carefully hooked them to my surrey. I personally saw that every strap was well hooked, the chains carefully adjusted and, in fact, every precaution taken to have them so harnessed that there could be nothing to fret them.

"I drove up St. Charles avenue to Washington, out Washington to the railroad crossing, back again to St. Charles avenue and then up to Carrollton until opposite the old Carrollton gardens and there stopped to rest under a tree. We had moved at a pretty good pace, the weather was warm, and I believed that a little rest would do the horses good. I forgot to tell you that I had in the rear seat of the surrey my wife and daughter.

"We stopped just under a tree, on the side of the neutral ground, and there waited. Just then a party of about twenty bicyclists came in sight, coming up the avenue. As they passed us my horses reared and made one plunge. I had the reins in my hand, and the ladies were seated in the surrey. What made me do it I do not know, nor can I account for it, but I let go the reins and the horses ran away—ran away, mind you, from the surrey unblinded. The surrey remained perfectly still for a moment and then by its own momentum slowly slid down to the sidewalk. We all got out without the slightest anxiety whatever. It was perfectly astounding.

"We made a careful examination of the straps, the hooks, the chains, the pole, and there was nothing broken, nothing strained, nothing bent—in fact, it was just as if some unseen spirits had carefully unhooked the horses and let them go. The horses were brought back in about two hours. We again made a careful examination of the harness, and I assure you the entire outfit was in perfect condition—nothing broken, nothing hurt or damaged whatever. Now, how can you account for that? I am not inclined to believe in the supernatural, but at times when I think over this incident I do not know what to believe."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

ANIMAL ODDITIES.

It is said that the frigate bird can fly an entire week without stopping to rest.

Some of the cuts in Liberia are of a bright red tint, and they are very conspicuous in the moonlight.

The cry of a young seal when wounded or about to be attacked resembles that of a child in distress, and tears flow from its eyes.

The common herring is the most difficult of all marine creatures to catch alive for an aquarium. A whale is the most difficult to preserve alive.

Cranes, storks and wild geese fly fast enough to make the trip from northern Europe to Africa in a week, but most of them rest north of the Mediterranean.

A fox is dainty as well as crafty and prefers the tongues of lambs for food. He has been seen to chase sheep until they, on becoming tired, hung out their tongues, which he then tears off and eats.

A caterpillar cannot see more than a centimeter ahead—that is to say, less than two-fifths of an inch. The hairs on the body are said to be of as much use as its eyes in letting it know what is going on around.

Newton Club.

At duplicate whist Monday evening, P. M. and P. W. Blake were the winners with plus 13½, W. M. Tapley and H. Chase, Jr., plus 5 and F. M. Cope-land and E. K. Sherman plus ½ were also above the average.

The assembly scheduled for next Wednesday evening has been cancelled.

Mayor Weeks dines the Republican City Committee on Monday evening.

The club bowling tournament is nearly finished, team 9, Captain Maltby winning in the second division and team 5, Captain Follett in the first division. The finals will be rolled on Monday.

Mr. Hutchinson was high roller the past week, with strings of 212 and 224.

A large party will attend the foot ball game at New Haven, tomorrow, going in special cars in charge of Mr. Pretto.

The lecture by Prof. A. Frederick Collins of Philadelphia on Wireless Telegraphy, Wireless Telephone and Color Photography last Wednesday evening was very interesting. The stage was filled with some rather formidable instruments but Prof. Collins began with simple experiments to show the difference between electrical quantity and electrical pressure. These were followed by some exhibitions of the Geisler tube, which were in the nature of pin wheel fireworks. His explanations and practical exhibition of wireless telegraphy and telephony were remarkably clear and successful. The evening closed with a display of color photography which was effective and beautiful.

Mr. W. R. King won the prize for the best three strings total and Mr. Jarvis Lamson, that for the best single string in the bowling competition Saturday evening. The prizes were scarf pins.

A Good Record.

For three quarters of a Century Dr. Harrison's Peristaltic Lozenges have been on the Drug Market and recommended and used by prominent physicians and druggists throughout the country. The peristaltic lozenges have proved themselves never failing in curing constipation, the prolific cause of ill health. They are especially remedy for ladies, and the druggist who sells them is bound to gain the confidence of all he recommends them to. There are hundreds of families who have used them for over fifty years and are still using them whenever they require a medicine. Dr. Harrison's Iceland Balsam is a wonderful remedy for Colds, La Grippe, etc. etc. See ad. in another column.

Home Circle Bazaar.

In Temple hall, Newtonville, on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings a novel bazaar was held under the auspices of the Newton Ladies Home Circle. The society colors of Nile green and white had been used to decorate the room and was most attractive. Hunt; candy, "A Terrible Temptation," Mrs. Arthur Kimball; aprons, "The Sower," Mrs. H. W. Crafts; mystery or package table, "Great Expectations," Miss A. G. Chamberlain; flower, "Rose in Bloom," Mrs. Charles H. Stacy; G. A. R. contribution table, fancy articles, Miss Emma Soule. The supper which was served Wednesday evening was in charge of Mr. W. F. Hadlock and was a typical Home Circle affair. The bazaar closed Thursday at six o'clock and from 8 to 10 there was dancing, music being provided by Knowlton and Allen's orchestra. A good sum was realized, which will be used to relieve the worthy poor of Newton.

"Now that I think of it," remarked the passenger with the skullcap, "there used to be a little place on this line they called Kias Station, but it must be something else now. I haven't heard the conductor call it out."

"We're pretty close to it, I think," replied the passenger with the gaiters. "But it isn't Kias Station any more. They've changed the name, but retained the idea. It's now—"

"Happy Junction!" bawled out the conductor as the train slackened its speed for the next stop.—Chicago Tribune.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club opened its season most delightfully last Friday afternoon, Nov. 14. Owing to the recent meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation at Newtonville, occurring on the day that the club usually holds its opening reception it was decided to combine the reception with the first regular meeting. Guests from nearly all the federated clubs in the vicinity of Boston were invited to attend to hear President Mary E. Woolley of Mount Holyoke College.

The main auditorium of the Unitarian church was thrown open for the address, while the parlors were used for the reception. Through the generosity of one of the members both rooms were handsomely decorated with fine potted plants and palms. Mrs. Edwin F. Snell presided at the organ both before the lecture and at the close while the guests were passing into the reception.

After a few words of welcome to the guests the president, Mrs. Anna L. Bailey presented the chairman of the day, Mrs. Howard P. Bellows, who introduced President Woolley. Her subject was the "Power of the Beautiful in Education," and she said in part:

"That what she was going to say was a very old thing, but that it was a very important thing. It has been said that the beautiful is as useful as the useful." She then went on to speak of the power of the beautiful in nature, of the charm and influence nature has over the mind and pointed out the effect that living close to nature had upon the old Hebrew prophets. She deplored what a recent Frenchman has called "speedmadness" not only in the educational world but also everywhere in life, this rushing from one thing to another. Are we taking sufficient time for thought? In speaking of the power of the beautiful in art, she told what one of her students had said to her in regard to what she herself was gaining from the study of light and shade, how she was learning to see beauty of character from being taught to study the light and shade upon peoples faces.

Miss Woolley then went on to say that she feared in this utilitarian age where the tendency is to take only those studies which are to be of some actual use in later life, that the beauty studies were going to suffer. She felt that the girl or woman who after a hard day's work could refresh herself from the pages of Homer was the better off for being able to do so. Fill the mind with the thoughts of the great poets. She emphasized particularly the beauty in literature and the use of books as friends, she urged especially the value of the use of beautiful English, the ability to put noble thinking into noble expression. She said that few realize what a wonderful instrument of power the mother tongue is. Her last point and the most important, she said, was the power of the beautiful in life. Education should prepare one for complete living.

The whole talk was bright with spicy, apt stories and Miss Woolley so charmed her hearers that there was not one who would not have listened gladly for another half hour.

During the hour that followed the members and guests all had an opportunity to meet Miss Woolley socially. In the receiving line were Mrs. Anna L. Bailey, Miss Woolley, Mrs. D. B. O. Bourdon, president of the Alumnae Association of Mount Holyoke College, Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, honorary president of the club, and Mrs. H. P. Bellows, chairman of the Education committee, who planned the program for the day.

The arrangements for the afternoon were in charge of Mrs. Ose G. Robinson, chairman of the hospitality committee, and Mrs. Barney M. Katelle, chairman of the reception committee.

She is a descendant of one of the pioneer families of Newton, the Jackson family. The groom is well known in Cambridge, and is a brother of Mr. George Cram, whose marriage was celebrated with great éclat a year ago. The church was decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns and was packed to its utmost capacity with guests from Brookline, Boston and the Newtons. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George W. Shinn, D. D., the rector. The best man was Mr. Charles Johnson of Boston, and the ushers were Messrs. Bowen B. Smith of New York, a brother of the bride; Jackson Cram and W. S. B. Cram of Newton, brothers of the groom; Frank Streeter and William Pierce of Dorchester and Clarence Minard of Brookline.
The bride was gown in white satin, trimmed with lace which was worn by both her mother and grandmother at their weddings and carried a beautiful bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss E. Linder Smith, who wore an elaborate creation of light blue crepe de chine. She was given away by her father.
After the ceremony a reception to the immediate relatives and friends was held at the bride's home on Hovey street. Mr. and Mrs. Cram left for a tour in the West and South. They will return in January and will reside at 396 Ward street, Newton Centre.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

Budget for 1903 Amounting To $1,136,196.17
Adopted without Change.

Ex-Mayor Kimball Honored—Mr. Chas. E. Kelsey Appointed a Library Trustee.

The adjourned meeting of the board of aldermen last Monday evening was called to order at 7.45 o'clock by President Weed, Aldermen Barber, Bowen, Brown, Chesley, Day, Ensign, Hubbard, Hutchinson, Lothrop, Mellen, Norris, Pond, Trowbridge and Webster being present. Aldermen Baker, Carter Lowe and Saltonstall arrived later in the evening.

At the hearing on taking of land in Simms Court for a sewer, Mr. Andrew Peters appeared in favor and the hearing was closed.

The following communication from the Mayor relative to death of ex-Mayor J. Wesley Kimball was received:

To the Board of Aldermen

Gentlemen: For the third time this calendar year, it becomes my duty to announce the death of an ex-Mayor of this city. The Honorable J. Wesley Kimball, a native of Grafton, Mass., and a resident of this city for the past 25 years, died at his residence, 73 Washington Park, Newtonville, Sunday evening, Nov. 16th, at 9.30 o'clock p. m. His death was due to heart failure.

Mr. Kimball had given many years service to this city, a member of the Common Council for the years 1877-78 and 79, a member of the board of aldermen for the years 1880-81-82-83, the last two years serving as President of the Board and as Mayor of the city for the years 1884 to 1888 inclusive. His occupancy of the latter office being longer than that of any Mayor who has filled the chair.

In recognition of these services the flags of the City were placed at half mast on the announcement of his death and suitable honors were paid at the funeral services.

I wish to suggest that ex-Mayor Kimball's memory be further remembered by you in such a manner as seems to you appropriate.

Respectfully submitted,
John W. Weeks,
Mayor.

Alderman Lothrop then said that it was appropriate for the board to take some action in this matter. He had known Mr. Kimball for many years and had always appreciated him as a kind and thoughtful citizen, who was thought a great deal of, particularly by the common people.

His service to the city was unparalleled and his loss is keenly felt. Alderman Lothrop then offered the following resolutions:

RESOLUTIONS.

Hon. J. Wesley Kimball died at Newtonville, Sunday evening, Nov. 16th, 1902.

For thirty years he has been a resident of the city of Newton and always interested in its social and civic affairs.

He has served the city in the government for twelve years, three years in the Common Council, four years in the board of aldermen, and five years as Mayor. For two years he was president of the board of aldermen.

Such long and faithful service calls for recognition by this board.

His industry and honorable career in mercantile affairs in a neighboring city where he began in an humble position as a clerk in a banking institution still further recommends him to our citizens.

We therefore recommend the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That his useful life and services as a citizen and member of our city government should be remembered with respect and gratitude.

RESOLVED, That we recognize a Divine Providence who gives to us the lives of useful men and when he deems best takes them from us.

RESOLVED, That we tender to his bereaved family our sincere sympathy in this time of affliction.

RESOLVED, That this memorial be placed upon record and a copy sent to his family.

Alderman Barber seconded the resolutions, saying that the board should recognize Mayor Kimball's unselfish devotion to the interests of the city. He referred to the remarks of the President at the beginning of the year when he called attention to the little interest paid to city affairs by the average citizen, and said that Mayor Kimball always took the deepest interest in the city and believed his example should be followed by others.

Alderman Ensign said it was a rare event for three ex-Mayors to pass away in the same year. Speaking of ex-Mayor Kimball, he said he possessed traits of character that attracted people to him, particularly from the humbler walks of life. It was also a remarkable fact that his name had frequently been mentioned for mayor since he had retired from public life. Mr. Kimball was determined to keep abreast of what was best for Newton and was frequently seen before Legislative Committees in favor of city matters. He believed that Mayor Kimball's example of continued interest in civic affairs should be followed by every member of the board.

The resolutions were then adopted by a rising vote.

The nomination of Charles E. Kelsey to be a trustee of the Newton Free Library vice Leeson resigned was laid on the table upon motion of Alderman Ensign.

PETITIONS.

Petition of John A. Bartheaux relative to injuries received on Commonwealth Avenue was referred to the Committee on Claims.

Petition of Henry Breck et al to use land on North street for cemetery purposes was referred to the Committee on Public Works.

Petitions of Orazio Colaluca for a hurdy gurdy license, and of F. W. Freeman to cross Mt. Vernon street with a telephone wire were referred to the Committee on Public Franchises.

The following petitions for pole locations and relocations were referred to the committee on Public Franchises and hearings ordered before the committee on December 10 at 7.30 p. m.

From the Newton & Watertown Gas Light Co., on Hancock Avenue, Felton street, Burnham road, Albenmarle road, Newtonville square, Pleasant street, Waltham street, Somerset road, Beacon street, Forest street, Webster park, Crafts street, Farwell street, Lowell Avenue, off Hull street, Elgin street, Stone Avenue, Lee Avenue, Old Orchard road, Deerfield road, Bracebridge road, Beethoven road, Winslow road, Edinboro street, Brook street, Garden road, Centre street, Waverley Avenue, Upland street, Centre street at Elmwood street, Centre street at Carleton street, Baldwin street, Hall street and Temple street.

From the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., on Centre street near Boylston street, Walnut street, Church and Park streets, Parker street, Needham street, Walnut street, Dudley street, for attachments on Endicott street at Carver road and to remove three poles from city land on Station street.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The following reports were received: FINANCE: Recommending $187,740.44 as grant for city expenses for Dec. 15; recommending $2,395.68 additional for interest on City loans temporary; authorizing City Treasurer to issue $200,000 in temporary loans; authorizing issue of $12,000 Washington street loan, 25 years at 3 per cent.; authorizing issue of $29,000 Metropolitan Park assessment loan, 10 years, 3½ per cent.; recommending transfer of $400 from Almshouse expenses and $1200 from Care of Sick Poor to Poor Out of Almshouse; approving sewer construction in Simms Court; recommending adoption of $280,470 as estimated receipts for 1903; recommending $1,136,196.17 for expenses for 1903, and recommending order for interest on unpaid taxes for 1903.

In presenting the report of the Finance Committee upon the budget for 1903, Alderman Lothrop said the Committee desired to thank the Mayor and heads of departments for their work in preparing the estimates as it had been very helpful to the committee. He informed the board that the committee had gone over the estimates very carefully, spending a great deal of time and thought and trusted the result would be satisfactory to the board.

Reports of the Committee on Public Works recommending the laying out of Windsor road under the betterment act, and recommending the granting of burial rights in the Centre street burying ground to Grace church were received. Reports from the same committee recommending that leave to withdraw be granted on petitions of A. E. Robinson for a walk on Highland street; for laying out of Adams and Chandler streets, under betterment act; Everett et al for sewer in Chilton place; Ruhe et al for sewer in Prices street, and of Philbrick et al for crossover on Boylston street at Jackson street, were severally accepted.

Alderman Ensign from the select committee on Kenrick fund reported that no further action need to be taken in the matter of legislation to allow an enlargement of the powers of the trustees and the report was accepted.

Alderman Barber requested that the report of the Street Lighting commission be printed for the use of the board. Alderman Mellen raised the question of cost which was answered by the City Clerk with an estimate of $35. Alderman Ensign believed this too small a matter, saying that the report could be readily seen at the office of the City Clerk. Alderman Brown said that the city was now starting upon a definite and comprehensive policy of street lighting and thought each alderman should know what was proposed to be done in his particular section. Alderman Trowbridge did not think the printing of the report would give the information desired as the lights were designated by number only and referred to a plan in the office of the City Engineer.

Alderman Barber's motion was then adopted by a vote of 9 to 4. Under the head of unfinished business Alderman Mellen brought up the report of the Committee on Public Franchises, granting leave to withdraw on petition of the Boston & Worcester St. Railway Co. for a location on Parker and Dedham streets. The matter was taken from the table and after a speech from Alderman Mellen favoring the granting of that part of the petition on the south side of Boylston street, the report was recommitted to the Committee and a hearing ordered before it for Dec. 23 at 8 p. m.

ORDERS.

Orders requesting Committee on Rules to consider advisability of limiting term of office of trustees of the Newton Free Library; assigning hearing Dec. 15 on laying out Windsor road under betterment act; granting burial rights in Centre street burying ground to Grace church; granting $187,740.44 for city expenses for Dec. 15; transferring $400 from Almshouse expenses and $1200 from Care of Sick Poor to Poor Out of Almshouse; taking land for sewer in Simms Court; authorizing sewer construction in Simms Court, were read and adopted.

An order appropriating $250 for settlement of claim of Bridget L. Clancey was adopted without reference upon explanation by Alderman Mellen.

Orders appropriating $2,395.68 for additional interest on temporary loans; authorizing issue of $200,000 in temporary loans; and authorizing issue of $29,000 Metropolitan Park Assessment loan for 10 years at 3½ per cent. were also adopted after brief explanations by Alderman Lothrop.

An order for issue of $12,000 Washington street loan for 25 years at 3½ per cent. was also adopted, although Alderman Webster opposed a long term bond. Alderman Webster said that the city was suffering now from the long term bonding by previous boards. Alderman Lothrop said that the Finance Committee was in favor of short term bonds but that this was the close of an account which had been always issued for 25 years. Alderman Day did not believe the rate would materially be reduced during the next 25 years and did not favor complicating the sinking funds by changing to a short term bond in this instance.

An order adopting $280,470 as an estimate of receipts for 1903 was presented and considered. Alderman Webster asked as to the effect of this vote and President Weed explained that it was a guide to the assessors in fixing the tax rate. Action was suspended but later in the evening the order was again taken up and adopted.

1903 BUDGET.

The appropriation order for 1903 calling for $1,136,196.17 was then taken up and the board went into the committee of the whole to consider it. Vice President Saltonstall in the chair.

The increase in the Assessing Department was explained by Alderman Lothrop who said that the recent change in the ordinance necessitated additional appropriations, the item for assessors being made a lump sum, to be apportioned later when the appointments were made.

The increase in the appropriations for printing and stationery was occasioned by the fact that it was intended to cover the entire cost of printing the City Documents.

The item of $400 to equip the Almshouse hospital was to place the city in a position to handle its sick poor in its own institution.

Alderman Webster severely criticized the item of $1800 for Incidentals saying that the board should have a definite knowledge of what was intended by this appropriation. Alderman Mellen opposed the motion and Chief Randall was called upon to explain the various items which the appropriation was intended to cover. President Weed said that he believed the appropriations made by the board should be still more general than they are now, and had grave doubts as to the advisability of specifically naming these small items. Alderman Webster's motion to strike out the item was then lost.

A recess was then taken for lunch and upon reassembling consideration of the budget was renewed in the committee of the whole.

In the Health Department, President Weed desired the item of $3000 for Newton hospital placed directly in the jurisdiction of the board of health and his motion therefor was adopted.

Alderman Hubbard explained that the cut of $900 in the item of Contagious Diseases was because the committee did not believe in the attempt of the Board of Health to establish a laboratory test for tuberculosis. Alderman Lowe said that consumption was a contagious disease and asked that Dr. Curtis of the Board of Health might explain the matter. Dr. Curtis said that the proposition was not an experiment but the board wished to assist in the early diagnosis of consumption by offering a bacteriological test. As it was impossible to make a distinction between rich and poor in this matter, the examinations must be free and an appropriation of $600 would be sufficient.

Alderman Hutchinson favored granting the appropriation as he believed the city should advance in these matters. He thought this plan would handle the matter expeditiously and that any check in the spread of this terrible disease would be well worth the money. Aldermen Weed and Trowbridge opposed the proposition believing that it was not yet time to take this subject up. Alderman Hubbard said that the state board did this work at a nominal expense. Alderman Lowe said that the state board was not a practical working body and that physicians wanted this work done here where results would be quickly known.

Alderman Hutchinson's motion to amend this amount to $2100 was then defeated and the sum of $1500 adopted.

Alderman Webster renewed his attack on the incidental item in the Law Department, and Alderman Mellen said that he did not think it possible to make this item any more definite. Alderman Webster said that he presumed the board was to make some changes in the order and Alderman Mellen retorted with the remark that the board was not there to find fault or pick flaws without reason. Alderman Webster then withdrew his motion to amend and the item was adopted.

Alderman Ensign heartily favored the increase in the salary of the librarian of the Public Library and also said the janitor should have an increase.

Alderman Lothrop said that the additional assistant librarian was to allow the trustees to open Sundays.

The various items under salaries were taken up separately but no objection was raised until that of the City Solicitor was reached. Alderman Webster then said that this salary was originally but $2000 and during the work of widening Washington street it was raised to $3500 and then changed. Alderman Mellen said he had been brought in contact with the legal department and found Mr. Slocum an able and conscientious official. He devoted a large part of his time exclusively to the city. His work is systematically arranged and it is not an excessive salary for a man of his ability as a lawyer. Alderman Ensign also believed this to be a reasonable salary and said it was not possible for him to have much private practise. Alderman Webster said it was not his purpose to belittle the City Solicitor and he well knew that Mr. Slocum stood high in the legal fraternity.

When the total item for salaries was adopted Alderman Ensign said he thought the city was paying too high salaries and he believed it wise next year to appoint a committee to look over the salary list.

About midnight Alderman Mellen favored adjournment but withdrew his motion when informed that the order must be passed during November.

The remainder of the items were quickly considered and the committee rose at 12.20 o'clock and President Weed resumed the chair.

The report of the committee of the whole was received and the order appropriating $1,131,961.67 for expenses of 1903 was adopted. Alderman Ensign suggested that the Finance Committee deserved the thanks of the board for the good work on the budget.

An order establishing the rate of interest on unpaid taxes of 1903 at 6 per cent. was then considered.

Alderman Webster favored 5 per cent. and made a motion to that effect and it was opposed by Aldermen Saltonstall, Day, Ensign and Lothrop, as a great hindrance to the work of collection. The motion was then defeated, Alderman Baker, Barber, Low and Webster voting in favor, and the order was then adopted.

On motion of Alderman Trowbridge auctioneer licenses were granted to W. B. Blakemore, John A. Potter, Alfred E. Alvord and John Flood, the usual fee being remitted in the case of Mr. Flood, a veteran of the civil war.

On motion of Alderman Trowbridge, the Clerk was authorized to notify on all petitions filed before Dec. 1st for pole locations and to forward the same to the Committee on Public Franchises.

On motion of Alderman Webster, the board adjourned until Monday, Dec. 15, at the usual hour.

LOADING THAT KILLS.

NO BLESSING LIKE HARD WORK, SAYS J. W. HALL.

To the Editor of The Telegram:—

There are few more delicious conditions than being bodily tired. How naturally we sink into the easy chair; it seems to meet us half-way. And what a haven of restfulness and comfort is the bed. Just the moment we pass instantly into unconsciousness no one can tell. It is generally preceded by a waking dream, and then we are dead for the night.

Few things are pleasanter to think about than what we have accomplished during the day, and whilst planning for the morrow sink all unconsciously into the arms of the restful goddess.

The muscle worker, in health, is seldom troubled with insomnia. It is the mind worker. He or she who goes to bed with the brain all on fire, whirling like a top, wider and wider awake they grow. As a remedy the buckaw is better than pills or powders; get up and saw wood until you can lie down by the sawhorse and sink into peaceful slumber. One pill tonight, two tomorrow night, then up to 10 and the crazy house.

Nature demands sleep. It is the savings bank through which is stored strength for me later on. Deprive her of it at your peril. Sleep is the elixir of life. To be deprived of it means an awful death. The streets of all large cities at midnight, or even later are thronged with young people. When do they sleep? It is strange that so many young people break down? Is it strange they demand less hours' work? Young men and women go home with their brains crazed with beer and awake unrested and unrefreshed.

A world without work would be a hell. The less hours' work the nearer to that home of the damned. Work, the greatest blessing bestowed on man and womankind! Less hours means less health, less money and less national prosperity.

God gives unto each of his created beings so many years of life. Don't fool them away. Make each hour tell for some good. An organization that restricts the hours of labor is a natural robber, a poverty breeder, a jail and poorhouse filler, a destroyer of the country. A large city is a cruel mill, which grinds up men and women. Only for the country and for immigration, it would destroy itself.

New York city grinds to powder thousands of young men and women every year in its horrid, human destroying mills. A country where people are employed 12 hours a day will endure longer than one where they are employed but six. It is loading that kills, not work. As a nation, we waste both material and time; poverty will surely follow this. We have thrown aside all religion and are bowing down to strange gods.

The path of time is strewn with the wrecks of nations, which have gone to pieces on these rocks of predilection. On what do we pin our faith? Nothing. What do we believe? Nothing. What is the ambition of our people to do? Nothing. What do we expect will be the hereafter? Nothing.

Washington Letter.

Washington, Nov. 24, 1902.

"What is the President going to say about the tariff?" is the question each new congressional arrival asks when he reaches Washington, and they are coming in crowds. The answer no man can give and it is probably safe to say that Mr. Roosevelt himself does not know. At the Oyster Bay conference it was determined that it would be unwise to disturb the extraordinary prosperity the country is now enjoying by tampering with the tariff schedules. When the President got ready to write his message he called another conference of republican leaders and it was determined that if proper tariff legislation were enacted at the short session that would be all it would be reasonable to expect that a tariff commission could be established to investigate the situation and report to the first session of the Fifty-eighth Congress and that it would then be time enough to decide if those tariff schedules which would be better for amendment were of sufficient importance to warrant the attempt. Now however the eastern members are urging the President to expedite the work and chairman Babcock and others say that there must be an extra session to deal exclusively with tariff revision.

The subject of tariff revision was exhaustively discussed at the Cabinet meeting held immediately after the President's return from the Mississippi cane-brakes and it was determined to hold several conferences with the leaders of the party to discuss the question. A conference will be held today and will probably be followed by others, as the President wishes to give all an opportunity to be heard. A striking instance of the local sentiment in regard to the tariff was furnished recently when the President sat in his office with Senator Lodge on one side and Senator Burrows on the other. "I am heartily in favor of your Cuban treaty but I cannot stand by you on that New Foundland convention; it would interfere with our local interests," said Mr. Lodge. "On the other hand, I think your New Foundland treaty is all right and I shall vote to ratify it," said Mr. Burrows. "But I am very dubious about the Cuban treaty."

Much interest attaches to the tariff position of Representative Cannon, who it is generally conceded will be the next speaker. In this connection it is recalled that last summer after the trip he made on the Dolphin with Secretary Moody, Mr. Cannon was interviewed in Washington and said: "The tariff will be revised sometime but not at the next session of Congress, or by the succeeding Congress unless there is a check to the present prosperity. The people of Illinois, so far as I have been able to learn, are not anxious for tariff revision. They are anxious to continue their business affairs without interruption caused by a long discussion in Congress as to what changes should be made."

Mr. Cannon, as speaker, will have it in his power to make or mar the hopes of the tariff revisionists. There will probably be three vacancies in the Ways and Means Committee, Messrs. Babcock and Tawney are strong revisionists and the appointment of three others of the same faith would give the revisionists within one of a majority on the republican side of the table. The present indications are, too, that the revisionists will make a fight on the retention of Mr. Payne as chairman.

The final acceptance of the President's conditions by the Commercial Pacific Cable Company is regarded as a decided triumph for the administration. The company will now hasten the laying of a cable to Honolulu, Guam, Manila and China, which will be strictly American in ownership, which will be independent of the regulations laid down by the President, in time of peace, and which will be turned over to the government in time of war. For a long time the Company has hesitated to bind itself to the conditions prescribed by the President but has finally acceded and has been furnished by Secretary Moody with the surveys and soundings made by the naval vessel, the Nero, and it is hoped that the cable to Honolulu will be ready for use within six months while all haste will be made in pushing the entire line to completion.

The Cuban situation is far from satisfactory and is occasioning the President much anxiety. The Cubans are becoming over confident and are inclined to regard themselves as entirely independent of the markets and espionage of the United States. General Biles, who has gone to Cuba to negotiate a treaty providing that while the Cuban tariff on imports from the United States shall not be changed, that on imports from all other countries shall be increased 50 per cent., and that in consideration of this change the United States shall allow a discount of 25 per cent. from the Dingley schedule on Cuban imports, reports that there are many difficulties in the situation. The opinion of the President and of his official family is that the Cubans are exceedingly unwise and ungrateful and it has been determined to make no further concessions but to stand by the provisions of the Platt amendment to the letter.

The treaty with Colombia is not in as promising a condition as it was a week ago. At the last moment Senator Concha refused to sign it without further instructions from Bogota and in the meantime the advocates of the Nicaraguan route are urging Secretary Hay to negotiate a treaty with Nicaragua and with Costa Rica so that he may submit all to the Senate next week. From Bogota, however, comes the report that the President of Colombia is most friendly to the construction of the canal and that he will use every effort to further the ends of the United States.

THE PLAYHOUSE.

TRENTON THEATRE, Dec. 1.—"The Sultan of Sulu."

PARK THEATRE, Dec. 1.—"Fanchon the Cricket."

GRAND OPERA HOUSE, Dec. 1.—"A Fight For Millions."

COLUMBIA THEATRE, Dec. 1.—Rice's "Show Girl."

KEITH'S THEATRE, Dec. 1.—Vaudeville.

Park Theatre—The attraction at the Park Theatre for the week beginning next Monday, Dec. 1st, will be "Fanchon the Cricket" the celebrated comedy drama in which Maggie Mitchell toured successfully for many seasons. The play is a favorite with all classes of theatre-goers, the leading character being a picturesque girl who makes her way directly into the hearts of the spectators. Its story is a charming and sympathetic portrayal of youthfulness and sentiment, and it contains one of the most charming love stories ever penned by a dramatist. It will be perfectly staged and costumed, and the production will be complete in every respect. The matinee performance at the Park Theatre are rapidly becoming more and more popular and the subscription list of weekly patrons is rapidly growing. It should be remembered that the best orchestra seats in the afternoon may be bought for thirty cents and that an entertainment equal in every way to that furnished by higher price houses is offered by Mr. Payton at both the afternoon and evening performance. At the close of the performance of "Fanchon the Cricket" next Tuesday afternoon, the weekly reception and tea will be held all the ladies in the audience being cordially invited to attend. Week after next "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be given.

Trenton Theatre—"The Sultan of Sulu," that famous musical satire by George Ade, the well known Western humorist, will have its first Eastern presentation at the Trenton Theatre, Dec. 1st, where it is booked for a month's engagement. "The Sultan of Sulu" is reported to be Manager Henry W. Savage's special pride. This enterprising producer has the credit for "discovering" humorist Ade's dramatic ability. He staked $30,000 in a lavish equipment of costume and scenery for the production, and it is said to be even a more pretentious effort than that for "The Prince of Felsen" or "King Dodo." In addition to a brilliant cast, Mr. Savage has provided a company of 100, mostly girls, containing the pick of all the beauty and talent that could be found in the West.

Boston Grand Opera House—"A Fight for Millions," the powerful melodrama, which will be seen at Boston Grand Opera House next week with the usual matinees, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, is a dramatic reflex of the exciting scene and happenings of the great, and busy world of today. It has its inception in the greed for money that characterizes mankind. All the characters in the plot are strong and well-drawn, and stand out boldly like real figures in life. The scenes fairly bristle with action, and are not the stereotyped, conventional, stage pictures to which the public has become accustomed and grown tired. Two carloads of scenery are carried for all the remarkable effects, and a company of twenty well-known artists are required for the interpretation of the great play.

Columbia Theatre—Beginning Monday evening, Dec. 1st, the management of the Columbia Theatre will present the latest E. E. Rice musical extravaganza "The Show Girl." The piece was originally produced by the Cadets, who presented it under the title of "The Cap of Fortune," but its professional name was made "The Show Girl," and as such it has scored a genuine hit. The program description of the piece as "a jolly bit of tomfoolery" would seem to be quite accurate. Musical and other specialties abound in the piece and the scenery is also a special feature. Both cast and program will be identical with the recent presentation at the Colonial Theatre, where a week of record breaking business was played to.

Boston Music Hall—"Beyond Pardon," Theodore Kremer's latest and most successful play, is a melodrama in which the elements of comedy and tragedy are so skillfully blended that many critics have already described it as a perfect play. The company presenting "Beyond Pardon," which comes to Boston Music Hall next Monday is said to be a well balanced organization of tried and experienced players with Miss Lavinia Shannon at the head of them. Miss Shannon is not only an accomplished and brilliant actress, but she is one of the most lovable and entertaining women in Washington. Miss Shannon is also a favorite in Boston and was formerly a valued member of the Castle Square Stock Company.

Concordisms

In the whiteness of the now is the whiteness of the then;
In the nowness of the where is the thenness of the when;
And the nowness of the who, and the whoness of the where,
Determine in a measure the whiteness of the there;
While the whereness of the which, and the whithness of the when,
Determine just as surely the howness of the then;
So the thenness of the who and the whiteness of the how,
Will be shown to be the thenness of the whithness of the now;
While the nowness of the which and the thenness of the there,
Are found to be the thenness of the howness of the where.

Keith's Theatre—All the towns and cities adjacent to Boston contribute their quota to a Keith audience, a statement that is borne out by the manner in which the patrons "break away" in the afternoons and evenings in order to catch certain trains. For the week commencing Dec. 1, there is not a single hold-over attraction. At the head are those two talented colored entertainers, Bob Cole and Rosamond Johnson, who attained such decided vogue at this playhouse during a brief engagement early last summer. They are announced to sing "coon" ballads in their own inimitable manner. The comedy element will be contributed by Walter Leroy and Florence Clayton, in their indescribably funny sketch, "Hogan of the Hanson." Ed Late, the favorite blackface musical comedian, and Al Leach, versatile eccentric comedian, dancer and singer, assisted by the three rosbuds, in a new grist of specialties. The Franz family, just over from Europe, will be seen for the first time in their famous acrobatic stunts and Cadeaux will give hair-raising exhibitions of fearlessness on the tight wire. Gillett's musical dogs will appeal particularly to the ladies and children, the act being one of the best in every respect in the varieties, and there are at least a dozen other acts that will interest or amuse both old and young.

New Trains

Residents on the line of the Boston & Albany circuit will, no doubt, be gratified to learn that the new fall time table, which went into effect last Monday, provides for six additional trains in both directions between 9 a. m. and 1.02 p. m.

The management has been making a careful study of the suburban business and the wide spacing of the steam trains, during the middle of the day, deterred many from patronizing them and gave the electric the preference.

This is not a competitive move against the trolley lines, but simply to meet a well defined need of the territory through which the circuit line operates.

During the past nine months the suburban traffic on the Boston & Albany road has shown a gratifying increase, as compared with a corresponding time last year, and the management finds in this fact alone justification in offering further inducements to patronize the road.

Thought has also been given to increasing the number of trains during the rush hours, but it has been decided that it is not practicable to do so, owing to the frequency at which they are now run.

The proposition to put into effect a new and lower schedule of suburban rates, which at one time was given serious consideration, has been for the present abandoned. A study of the charges made by the various roads throughout the country which carry on a heavy suburban business shows that fares on the Boston & Albany are as low, if not lower, than any of this class of railroad systems, with one exception, that being the Illinois Central.

The suburban trains are carrying more passengers than at any previous time since the inauguration of electrical traction in the company's territory, and the indications favor a continued increase. While this growth continues the management feels that it would be poor business policy to make any change in its tariff schedules.

Dolls for the Children.

That the Boston Sunday Post is a hustling and enterprising example of the modern newspaper has been demonstrated on so many occasions and by so many different and unique methods that its last bid for popularity might have passed without comment were it not from the originality and surprising generosity which distinguishes it from any other ever made by any newspapers.

In one of its recent issues the following announcement appeared:

"LIFE-SIZED DOLL FOR EVERY CHILD IN NEW ENGLAND WHO WILL TAKE THE TROUBLE TO DO A LITTLE EASY WORK TO EXTEND THE CIRCULATION OF THE SUNDAY POST." Following this announcement is a description and picture of the doll in colors, which is as large as an ordinary baby, thus enabling any fortunate possessor to utilize baby's wardrobe, provided there is a baby, and the returns asked for by the Sunday Post is surprisingly small.

All that is asked is that the would-be possessor of the doll "go to 10 friends and neighbors who are not regular buyers of the Sunday Post and get them to make a written promise to purchase, from their regular newsway or newsdealer, a Sunday Post for five successive Sundays commencing at once "and there is an accompanying blank which the child is to have filled out by her friends who make the agreement. Then all that there is left for the little one to do is to mail the blank with a stamp inclosed containing the 10 names and address to the Circulation Department of the Sunday Post and receive her doll at once. No dolls will be sold and the only way to get one is to send the written promises. Considering the well-known merits of the Sunday Post, it is improbable that any child need work very many minutes to secure the 10 names required and at once to become the owner of a beautiful life-size doll.

The conditions for the earning of this beautiful doll are printed in the Sunday Post and it will pay every child to ask mamma or papa to buy a copy next Sunday.

We regret the action taken by the board in refusing to allow the board of health to take an advanced step in the line of curbing the spread of consumption. People are just awaking to the fact that this "White Scurge of the North" is a contagious disease and that its circle of destructive influence may be reduced by educational work among its victims.
In this connection it might be well to call attention to the standing of the Newton Board of Health and its past work in sanitary science under the leadership of its present efficient chairman.

This board was the first in Massachusetts to recognize and to adopt the present method of formaldehyde disinfection, it was one of the first to make systematic inspections of dairy stables and to insist upon cleanliness in the milk supply. It has an efficient system of house to house inspection, and it established a medical school inspection, which at first was very effective. The board has taken a firm stand in favor of cremation of garbage and refuse, and when the city arrives at a proper understanding of this important subject, it will find carefully drawn conclusions to work upon. It has established a bacteriological laboratory and its work is considered to rank with that turned out by the best bacteriologists in the state, and it was one of the three laboratories recently selected by an important sanitary body to perform some valuable investigations.

With this record, it is a pity that the small appropriation of $600 to make laboratory tests for tuberculosis should have been refused.

The attempt of the board of aldermen to limit the term of office of the trustees of the Free Library is in distinct violation of the city charter which clearly states that the mayor shall appoint certain officers for definite terms, and then adds
"other officers until they resign or are removed." Library trustees come under this class and while the board evidently wishes an active interest taken in the affairs of the library, it is certainly poor judgment to withhold confirmation of the mayor's appointee, who is ready and willing to do the work.

The reduction of the rate of interest on unpaid taxes from 6 to 5 per cent, as urged at the last meeting of the aldermen will not be so much a benefit to the poorer classes as it will be a boon to the speculator and the man interested in the stock market. The citizen who owns his home and but little beside is usually the most prompt in paying his taxes and the reduction in the rate will materially increase the work of tax collecting.

The action of the board of aldermen Monday forebushes the opening of the Library building at Newton and possibly the opening of the various branches on Sunday afternoons for reading and reference work only.

This reform was earnestly advocated by the GRAPHIC last year and we believe will be heartily appreciated by a large number of citizens.

While responding to a certain call at the Colonial Theatre, Monday evening, Mr. Francis Wilson, addressed the audience as "Ladies and Gentlemen and people from West Newton." We are led to reply that there are comedians and comedians, but only one Francis Wilson.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Newton Woman Suffrage Association was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Rowe, president of the League, Shaw street, West Newton.
The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President Mrs. Richard Rowe;
honorary president, Mrs. E. N. L.
Walton; vice presidents, Mrs. N. T.
Allen, Mrs. J. P. Tolman, Mrs. G.
D. Gilman; recording secretary, Mrs.
C. F. Estabrook; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Bellamy; treasurer, Mrs. T. E. Stutson; directors, Miss
S. A. Whiting, chairman; Mrs. Jane
M. Hastings, Mrs. Kate A. T.
Allen, Mrs. G. H. Brown, Mrs.
A. D. Sampson, Mrs. H. J. Langley, Mrs. B. L. White, Mrs. E. C. Burrage, Mrs. C. W. Eaton, Mrs. John Carter, Mrs. H. P. Bellows, Mrs. S.
E. Howard.

It was voted to change the name
from the Newton Woman Suffrage League to the Newton Equal Suffrage League.

After an interesting discussion among members as to the desirability of having women on the school committee and the necessity of having the caucus laws revised so women could attend the caucuses to vote for nominees for the school board Mr. H.
B. Blackwell of Boston made a very interesting address.

He said Henry Wilson first called his attention in 1840 to the law which made a woman's earnings the property of the husband. Mr. Wilson had seen so much suffering caused by wasting of the wife's hard-earned money by profligate husbands that he determined to change that law and he did. Mr. Blackwell also saw at that time the injustice of a wife not being allowed to own any personal property, not even her own clothes.
He afterwards met the gentlest and noblest of women, who wished to devote her life to helping the condition of women. Lucy Stone would not consent to become his wife, until they had made a solemn compact, that she should retain her complete freedom, and that he should help her in her life work. Great changes have come in the condition of women,
but much is still to be done.

A pleasant social hour followed the meeting.

The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. J. George W.
Shinn of the Grace church of Newton.

The bride was dressed in white crepe de chine trimmed with embroidery and duchesse lace and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthem-

Clubs and Lodges.

At the regular meeting of Home Lodge, I. O. O. F., last week Thursday evening there was a large attendance of members and visiting brothers and one pleasing feature was the presence of many old members. The first degree was conferred on one candidate by Waban Lodge and the second degree was conferred on six candidates by Home Lodge, five of the candidates coming from the Aiston Lodge. Waban Lodge staff performed its work admirably, especially the dramatic part, which after a few more repetitions will place the work in the front rank.
Home Lodge did its degree work well, but a few more rehearsals will make good order in maneuvers. Monday evening, Dec. 8, the association gives a whist party in the Odd Fellows' building.

Monday evening was observed as Ladies' night by Mt. Ida Council,
R. A., in Dennison hall, Newton-ville. Mr. Frank Cutter of Somerville gave a musical entertainment and games were enjoyed. Among those who received whist souvenirs were Mrs. Frank Hyslop, Miss Nutt and Mr. John Harrington. Refreshments were served by Hyslop.

Newton Lodge A. O. U. W. held a whist party in the lodge rooms Nonantum building last Tuesday evening. Souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. Hall, Miss Harrington, J. A.
Rourke and A. S. Nicholson.

The last initiation by the present officers of Tennyson Rebekah Lodge will take place in Odd Fellows' hall, West Newton, Tuesday evening, Dec.
2nd. The election of officers will take place the third Tuesday in December.

two out of three and team 5 beat 2, team 8 beat 11 and team 7 beat 10 by the same score. Team 6 beat 3, team 9 beat 12, three straight. Mr. Bancroft takes Mr. N. F. Stanley's place in team 9 and rolled a total of 567.

Mr. C. A. Drew won the 3 string total yesterday with 566 and Mr. H.
P. Wardwell won the single with 213.

At whist Bixby's team beat Holbrook's by a score of plus 3, and Enstis' team beat Hall's by a score of plus 6.

Hatch and Trowbridge successfully defended the pair trophy, defeating Bixby and Crosby by 1 trick.

SCHOOL BOARD

At the regular meeting of the school board Wednesday evening
there was a lengthy discussion over the proposed eight room addition to the Hyde school at Newton Highlands, and the matter was laid on the table without action.

The following resignations of teachers were accepted by the board:
Miss Martha Healey from the Hyde school, Miss Clara B. McCracken from the Adams school, and Miss Eudora
T. Bacon from the Claffin school.

Miss Harriet W. Ryder and Miss Maud Brackett were appointed assistants in the Hyde and Horace Mann schools respectively. Supt. Field reported the number of pupils in the schools to be 5711, as against 5482
last year.

Orders were passed naming the Ash street school, "The Charles C. Burr school," making important changes in the rules relating to committees, relative to telephone connections between school houses and for investigation of the penny savings plan.

TO
THE WOMEN.

Some women are just a trifle timid
about going to a bank to transact business.
And why? Simply because they are not familiar with the rules of banking. This shouldn't be so, and, indeed, this isn't so
with those who come to this bank, for
we aim to make every transaction so
clear and so plain, that dealing with a bank soon becomes to them an easy
habit.

We appreciate the patronage of women.
Their business with us is already large and
steadily increasing. If you are not now a patron, then please consider this an invitation to become one.

FRANK L. NAGLE, JR.

In response to the call issued by Congressman Powers for the examination of applicants for the cadetship for West Point in the old 11th congressional district only 10 boys presented themselves last Friday at the English High school, Boston, for physical examination. Congressman Powers was present, as well as the other examiners.

The physical examination was carried on in the library and adjoining reception rooms by Col. Otis H. Marion, Dr. Adams of Hyde Park and Dr. Utley of Newton. The boys who presented themselves were as fine specimens of lads averaging 18 as could be found in the district.

Every one was strong and rugged looking. They were: Mortimer C. O'Donnell of Newton, Theodore W. Stedman of Roxbury, Frank L. Nagle, Jr., of Newtonville, Harold C. Daniels of Newton, Frederick W. Donahue of Needham, Frederick E. Beck of Newton Lower Falls, Roger A. Doane of Hyde Park, Frederick J. Gavin of Watertown, Louis J. Killon of Roxbury and Narcissi C. Fowler of Roxbury.

Doane, Nagle, Daniels and Stedman successfully passed the medical inspection and were examined mentally by Col. Skinner of Brookline and Col. Benyon of Watertown last Monday. As a result of this examination Nagle is easily first, finishing ahead in every study but two. He receives the appointment as principal and Doane and Daniels, who were next in order, are named as alternates.

BOXING THE COMPASS.

The Test Between a Sailor and a Landlubber.

Boys who live in seaport towns are sometimes asked to "box the compass." If they can do it quickly and accurately, they are fine sailors and may grow up to be the captain of a four-master. If they miss a point or can only do it slowly, they are landlubbers and will never see blue water. To box the compass means to name all the points in order just as you can speak. This is the way an old down east skipper will rattle it off: North, nor' by east, nor-nor-east, nor-east by north, northeast, nor-east by east, east-nor-east, east by north, east-southeast, southeast, south-southeast, south by east, south-south-west, west-south-west, west by south, west-north-west, north-west, nor-west by north, nor-north-west, nor' by west, north.

Can you do it?

If a needle is drawn a few times over the ends of a horseshoe magnet, it becomes magnetized. Push such a magnetized needle through a small cork. Place the cork in a bowl of water, taking pains to see that the cork when it floats on the water will carry the needle in a horizontal position or "on an even keel." Another way is to cut about three inches from a hollow straw (such as is used to suck lemonade) and to push the needle inside the straw. The straw will float and carry the needle. Now observe what happens. The floating needle will slowly swing round till it points north and south. The straw will behave in the same way. Push it in any other direction, and the moment it is free it swings back again. We do not know who first observed the fact that a floating magnetized needle will point to the north. Nor do we know precisely when or where some unknown inventor used this idea to make a compass. All we know is that the Chinese made and used compasses more than 2,000 years ago.

When men began, perhaps 10,000 years ago, to sail upon the water, they used marks upon the shore to guide them on their way. Long years after they observed that a certain star kept at all times the same place in the sky, and they used this pole star as a guide in steering their ships. Today a steamship starting down the Hudson river for Europe is guided by the pilot, and he uses the buoys, beacons and other guide marks to steer the ship down the bay. Off Sandy Hook he gives up the ship to the captain, who instructs the helmsman to steer northeast by east, east by north or whatever course he selects, and the helmsman, watching the compass, keeps the ship headed in that direction.—Dallas News.

COOKING HINTS.

Chocolate is greatly improved by adding a teaspoonful of strong coffee just before serving.

In adding flour to gravies, always use a flour dredger and there will be no lumps in the gravy.

Some housekeepers vary the flavor of potato salad by boiling the potatoes for it in stock, or, if it is more convenient, in the soup kettle.

In using sour milk the proportion for gingerbread, biscuits, cake or almost any dough or batter is one teaspoon of baking soda to two cups of sour milk.

If making a gelatin dessert on a hot or a wet day, add a little more gelatin than the recipe requires, half as much again if you wish to mold fruit into the jelly.

Eggs in a rangote is made by boiling eggs three and a half minutes, roll in beaten egg and then bread crumbs, fry in deep fat; when brown, drain on paper, garnish with parsley and serve with rangote sauce.

To make a small shortcake take a pint of pastry flour, rub in hard the size of an egg, teaspoonful cream of tartar, half teaspoonful soda, salt, and mix with sweet milk. Bake in quick oven, split and butter and add fruit.

Moral Suasion and a Strap.

"She seems to have abandoned her moral suasion ideas relative to the training of children."

"She has?"

"How did it happen?"

"Well, I was largely instrumental in bringing about the change. You see, she has no children of her own, and I grew weary of her constant preaching and theorizing, so I loaned her our Willie."

"Loaned her your boy?"

"Precisely. She was to have him a week on her solemn promise to confine herself entirely to moral suasion."

"Did she keep her promise?"

"She did, but at the expiration of the week she came to me with tears in her eyes and pleaded for permission to whine him just once."—New York Mail and Express.

For the Use of the Right Hand.

The buttons on coats, etc., are placed on the right side and the shed of the hair in boys to the left evidently to suit manipulation by the right hand. The great philosopher Newton records that at first he confined his astronomical observations to his right eye, but afterward he managed to train his left. But there are persons who could not do this owing to the unequal strength of their eyes.—Chambers Journal.

Entertained Her.

"Did Miss Gaddy entertain your proposal?" asked the close friend.

"No," was the sad answer. "It seemed to work just the other way."—Exchange.

The longest pendulum ever made was 377 feet in length and was swung from the second platform of the Eiffel tower.

"A MONTANA BLUFF."

How Four Troopers Made Seventy-five Filipinos Flee.

What is regarded as one of the tallest bluffs on record furnished Captain Edgar Russell, chief signal officer in the Philippines during the insurrection, with a story which he told as an example of western nerve.

"We were outside of Manila in some little camp," said the captain, "and about seventy-five natives were lying in a trench ahead of us, shooting away merrily, but not hitting anybody. By and by I noticed a little disturbance in our front. Presently four Montana troopers trotted out of our lines and started straight for the Filipinos. Everybody looked at them with wonder and waited to see them all killed. Bullets whistled all around them, but they never halted. Slowly, just at a trot, they jogged on toward the enemy. The natives fired and fired, but for some unknown reason did not hit. On and on went the quiet, disconcerting cover. At last there was a shout, and to our utter astonishment we beheld the seventy-five Filipinos suddenly jump out of their trenches and take to their heels in mad flight. The nerve of the Montana troopers was too much for them. When they had all fled, throwing their rifles away as they ran, the troopers came back, their arms full of guns. That is what the army called 'a Montana bluff.' It's the sort of nerve that lets a man open a jackpot on a pair of deuces."—New York Tribune.

The Women of Languan.

Woman supreme—without the ballot! And this feather which London Answers sticks in the cap of woman is no less brilliant because she is allowed to wear it only in the town of Languan.

In that little Welsh village man neither is nor pretends to be. In other villages he sometimes pretends to be, but in this sequestered nook on the Pembrokeshire coast he is simply Anne Williams' man or Mary Jones' man and recognizes himself as such.

In Languan woman is the dominating force in the market; she is the household financier, the family accountant, and in fact fills all the positions which in any other community, civilized or barbaric, are established by precedent given to man. Whether he of Languan has resigned or been divested of all responsibilities of life is no part of this story.

There is another important fact in Languan life—oysters. The place is famous for them. But Languan oysters are in no sense rivals of Languan woman; their proverbial dumbness precludes that.

Newport's Architecture.

The cottages of Newport afford a strange commentary upon the contrasting tastes of the American nation. Their heterogeneity were impossible in a race of settled culture, in a race of common blood, in a country of limited extent. But the United States is a nation of nations. Its people are not Americans, but Englishmen and Scotsmen, Frenchmen and Germans, Italians and Spaniards of the third or fourth or tenth generation, says the Smart Set. Their taste in architecture is a taste that was born on the sunny Mediterranean shore, in cozy Normandy orchards, in classic Spain and Italy, in baronial Scotland and England. It is revealed in the chateaux, the castles, the villas, the loggias of Newport. Seville and Welbeck, Florence and Falmouth, here stand side by side on the same strip of grass, separated only by a grille from Venice or Antwerp.

Noah Left the Ark on April 20.

Saturday, April 20, is the day marked in all ancient calendars as being the one upon which Noah and his family quitted the ark after having withstood the siege of the great deluge. The day is marked in all ancient calendars, especially British, as egressus Noe de arca, the 17th of March, the day upon which Noah, his family and their great floating collection of natural history specimens set sail, being designated in the same class of early printed literature as Introversus Noe in arca, "the day of Noe's entrance into the ark." Why these days were chosen as the ones upon which the supposed embarkation and disembarkation were made are enigmas which the antiquarians have not yet solved.

Instincts That Lead to Death.

Professor Mivart proved that there are "instincts" that lead to death by failing to adapt themselves to a change of circumstances. Migratory quail by thousands perish in the deserts of northern Africa, where their ancestors used to find a comfortable winter resort, abounding with forests and even with grainfields, if we shall credit Pliny's account of the Numidian coast lands. The forests are gone, but myriads of quail still follow in the same route at the risk of starvation.

A Long Green One.

"Bribem's interested in that bill you voted for," said the first councilman.

"Sure," replied the other. "Don't you suppose I know that?"

"Did he ask you personally to vote for it?"

"Well—er—he just handed me a note."—Kennebec Journal.

Repudiates It.

"Not from my side of the house."

"Why not?"

"Because she hasn't any."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

REMARKABLE LAKE.

A Body of Water With a Roof of Solidified Salt.

A lake with a salt roof isn't frozen salt, and it isn't underground. On the contrary, this remarkable lake may be seen at any time during the year, fully exposed, being even at its best when the sun is shining directly upon it. This wonderful body of water is one of the saltiest of the salt lakes and is situated near Otdorsk, Siberia. The lake is nine miles wide and seventeen long and within the memory of man was not entirely roofed over by the salt deposit. Originally evaporation played the most prominent part in coating the lake over with salt, but at the present time the salt springs which surround it are adding fast to the thickness of the crust.

In the long ago rapid evaporation of the lake's waters left great salt crystals floating on the surface. In course of time these caked together. Thus the waters were finally entirely covered. In 1878 the lake found an underground outlet into the river Obi, which lowered its surface about three feet. The salt crust was so thick, however, that it retained its old level and now presents the curious spectacle of a salt roofed lake. The salt coat increases six inches in thickness every year. The many islands with which the lake is studded are said to act as braces and to help keep the arched salt crust in position.

Unique Hotel Rules.

Following are the rules and regulations posted in a certain hotel in Illinois:

Board, 50 cents per square foot; meals extra; breakfast at 0, supper at 7.

Guests are requested not to speak to the dumb waiter; guests wishing to get up without being called can have self rising flour for lunch.

The office is convenient to all connections; horses to hire, 25 cents a day. Guests wishing to do a little driving will find hammer and nails in the closet.

If the room gets too warm, open the window and see the fire escape. If you are fond of athletics and like good jumping, lift the mattress and see the bed spring.

If the lights go out, take a soda—that is light enough for any man. Any one troubled with nightmare will find a balter in the barn.

Don't worry about paying your bill; the house is supported by its foundation.—Detroit Free Press.

Modifying It.

Mrs. C. was horrified to discover that her little seven-year-old daughter was acquiring the habit of alluding very freely to the devil, and at last she told her determinedly that a repetition of the obnoxious word would bring severe punishment.

The child knew that her mother was in earnest, so she set a seal on her lips. At last she seemed to have forgotten it, but one Sunday Mrs. C., who had been too ill to go to church, asked her if she could tell what the minister had preached about in his sermon.

"Oh, yes'm," she answered. "He preached about our Lord going up into the mountain and being tempted by—by—the gentleman who keeps hell!" She didn't intend to run any risks of being punished.—Francis E. Wadleigh in Lippincott's.

They Never Imbibe.

The Ona Indian is deserving of a higher place than he has hitherto occupied in men's esteem if for one trait. He forms the almost solitary exception among aboriginal tribes in refusing to touch alcohol in any form. This policy of total abstinence is rigidly adhered to in the face of cold, hunger and illness and even during the excitement of ceremonial rites. Whatever his faults may be, judged from the white man's standard, the Ona of South America has at least the saving virtue of manliness. His ideal is one of bodily prowess, hardihood and endurance.—Scottish American.

Their Fate.

The late Dr. Talmage once called on his lawyer and found two of his parishioners there on legal business of a private nature.

"Ah, doctor," called the lawyer in greeting, "good morning! Here are two of your flock. May I ask without impertinence if you regard them as black sheep or white?"

"I don't know as yet," replied Talmage dryly, "whether they're black or white, but I'm certain that if they remain here long they'll be felled."

Very Sad.

"Yes, it's very sad."

"How is that?"

"Why, he always held that to train a wife properly you should catch her while she's young. So he did."

"Well?"

"Well, it seems that she had the same idea about a husband, and now there's a crisscross of training ideas that is simply home wrecking."—Chicago Post.

Why He Objected.

"But, papa," pleaded the millionaire's daughter in behalf of the poor young man she wished to marry, "surely it is no disgrace to work for a living."

"N-no, my dear—no. What I object to is being the one who is worked for!"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Queer Law Case.

Not long ago a trial was reported where a man sued a medicine concern which had offered $100 for a case their remedy could not cure. The man had taken the remedy but had not been cured. The defence was that he had not taken the medicine long enough. He did not get the $100.

Literary Notes

Mr. James H. Foss, the predecessor of Mr. Savin as the master of the Bigelow school, is the author and publisher of a book just issued entitled "The Gentleman from Everywhere." Its scope is unique and the story is told in a most interesting manner with shrewd comments on conventional matters which are particularly bright. Experiences as a student, as teacher, as a political stump speaker and as a land promoter furnish a wide range for humor and pathos. Chapters on Christian Science and Socialism are written with sincerity and conviction, although one may not always agree with the opinions of the writer. The book is characterized by sincerity and humor. It is handsomely illustrated with original drawings and photographs and is beautifully bound in cloth. Price $1.50.

A Personal Obligation.

With the terrors of the epidemic of disease of last winter still in mind, it becomes the urgent duty of every person to eliminate from their home, or its vicinity every bit of filth, decay, unclean or unsanitary condition, which may contaminate the air we breathe and render us susceptible to the insidious attack of disease germs. Boards of health and physicians strongly recommend the general and free use of Cabot's Sulpho-Naphthol. Particular stress is laid on the importance of getting the right article and not one of the cheap inferior imitations or substitutes which unscrupulous dealers try to force upon one.
